Former Marin Banker Says First Mass As Priest

A former Mill Valley banker said his first three masses as a Catholic priest last week at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley, and yesterday celebrated his first solemn high mass in San Francisco.

Rev. Joseph P. Halter was assistant cashier and chief clerk at the Bank of America in Mill Valley from 1938 to 1950.

He was ordained a priest last week on his 59th birthday. He said his first mass yesterday at St. Brigid's Church in San Francisco.

Today he was to leave for Great Falls, Mont., where he will visit a hospital where he has spent the last three summers as an accountant. He will return in 10 days, go to San Diego where he studied for priesthood, and await his assignment.

During the past week he has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Stutzman at 55 West Blithedale Avenue.

In Rev. Halter's banking career of 34 years he also worked in banks in San Francisco and Sacramento.

As a youth he had studied for priesthood eight years but left it for health reasons. He had married. Following his wife's death he went to night classes in San Francisco. He decided to become a priest four years ago.

He said he decided to become a priest because of an "urge to do something for God in a spiritual way. The best years of my life are gone. I'm giving back to God the few years I have left."

HE LIKES SLANG, HOTCAKES

Rotary Fetes New Leader —Calcutta's Nitish Laharry

A Hindu from Bengal who likes American movies, American food and American slang was in San Rafael today to attend a joint luncheon of five Rotary Clubs.

It was a big day for the Rotarians, because the Hindu, Nitish C. Laharry of Calcutta, is president-elect of Rotary International.

Haharry said he has been in the United States "scores of times"—so many that "this is my second home." But it was his first visit to Marin.

He arrived in San Francisco during the weekend, where he is the guest of Wallace S. Myers, San Anselmo attorney and Rotarian. He accompanied Myers to San Rafael today for the joint luncheon of Marin Rotary clubs at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant.

Laharry began his career as an attorney, but quit the law to become a film producer. He produced the first picture in the Bengali language.

"I lost my shirt," he said. "It was the early days, the '20s. The picture was good but the distribution was bad."

He then joined Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer as Calcutta branch manager. Later he opened an office for Columbia Pictures in Calcutta, being in charge of distribution of the firm's films in India, Burma, Ceylon, Pakistan, Afghanistan and Nepal.

"I lived out of a suitcase," he said.

Laharry declared, "American movies have done a great deal in promoting internationalism."

The cause of good feeling between the United States and India also is getting a big boost right now from the visit to India of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, he said.

"She has captured the hearts of millions, particularly in areas she visited herself," Laharry reported.

Laharry said he retired from movie work in 1960 and now devotes time to "Rotary and four grandchildren."

He said he prefers American food to the spicier food of his homeland. Hot cakes are his favorite breakfast food. Myers prepared him a stack of them this morning.

From the Bay Area, Laharry will go to Evanston, Ill., home office of Rotary International, where he will take over his duties July 1 as head of the vast organization.

Public Works Money Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy today asked Congress for a 600-million-dollar program to start public works projects at once in areas suffering from substantial unemployment.

Kennedy outlined his new program in a letter to the House Public Works Committee as the committee opened hearings on another administration public works plan a standby two-billion-dollars program for use in future recessions.

The president said that, despite prompt enactment of both an immediate and a standby program to provide jobs. The new program had been strongly urged by labor union leaders at a White House meeting with Kennedy two weeks ago.

Top Algeria Extremist Aide Captured; 21 Dead In Rioting

French Troops Fire Into Demonstrators

ALGIERS (UPI)—French troops smashed a demonstration against the Algerian peace pact with gunfire today as the government disclosed the seizure of a key leader of the secret army organization (OAS)

At least 21 persons were killed and 150 wounded when Frenchman fought against Frenchman in the heart of Algiers.

Reports from private sources said at least 25 demonstrators died in the shooting, although it was impossible to obtain any independent casualty figure. It was announced officially that the security forces lost one man killed and five wounded.

The outburst of violence that began as the unarmed demonstrators tried to break through a roadblock of French troops in the heart of Algiers followed within hours the French government announcement of the capture of former Gen. Edmond Jouhaud, No. 2 man of the OAS terrorist organization.

Jouhaud and three aides were captured yesterday in Oran. An attempt by OAS commandos to rescue them from a gendarmerie barracks was beaten off in a brief battle in which at least one gendarme was killed and several others wounded. Today, the four were flown to Paris, where Jouhaud is under sentence of death for his part in the Algerian violence.

HARSH BLOW

The capture of Jouhaud and the bloody crushing of the Algiers' demonstration were harsh blows against the extremists who want to keep Algeria forever French and who oppose last week's cease-fire arrangement.

Stung by the seizure of Jouhaud and defeats by French government forces in street fighting in Oran and Algiers, the remaining OAS leaders resorted to mass demonstrations by civilians.

YOUTHS FIRST

Today's demonstration in Algiers was called by the OAS which distributed leaflets urging the city's European residents to converge on the war memorial "with flags flying . . . but without any arms" to show their determination to keep Algeria French.

Riot police and troops cordoned off the square, but at first a few score youths squeezed through the army barricades. They were followed by hundreds, then thousands of other demonstrators.

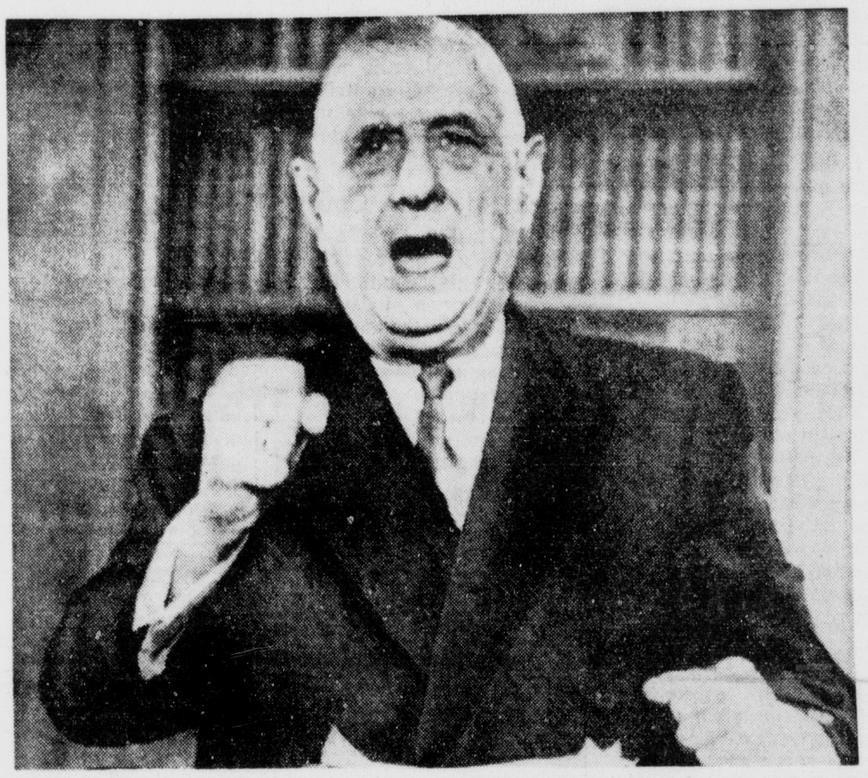

As the crowd surged forward, French troops opened fire with rifles and submachine guns, cutting a bloody swath in the crowd.

RUN FOR COVER

The demonstrators were stunned. They milled about and broke for cover, as did the many curious onlookers and shoppers caught in the sudden battle. Behind them they left a rubble of abandoned personal possessions — shoes, topcoats, handbags, hats.

Extremist riflemen then opened up on the soldiers and gendarmes there and at several other points in the downtown area. The government forces returned the fire and cleared a number of buildings. Grenades were hurled at several places.

The main demonstration and the worst violence ended in half an hour, but sporadic firing continued for hours.

Congressional Medal Goes To Poet Frost

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Poet Robert Frost was presented the Congressional Medal by President John F. Kennedy today, and he called the event "the height of my life."

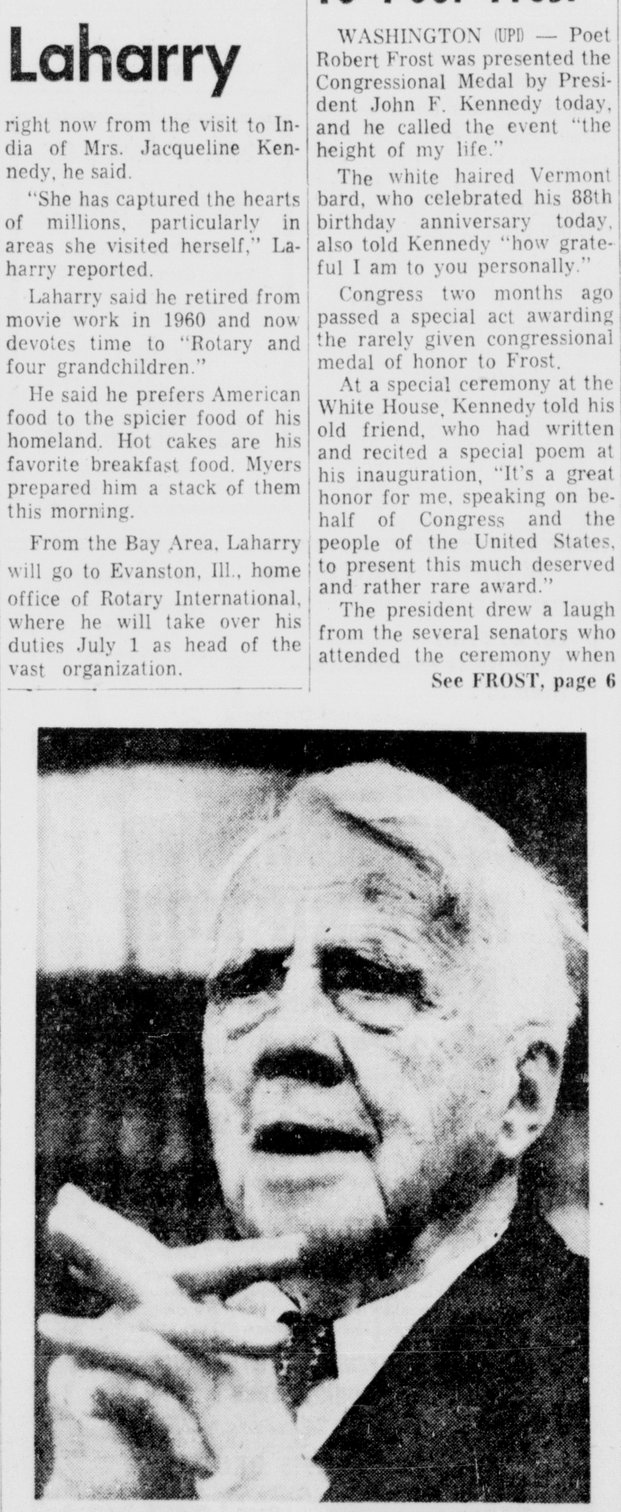

The white haired Vermont bard, who celebrated his 88th birthday anniversary today, also told Kennedy "how grateful I am to you personally."

Congress two months ago passed a special act awarding the rarely given congressional medal of honor to Frost.

At a special ceremony at the White House, Kennedy told his old friend, who had written and recited a special poem at his inauguration, "It's a great honor for me, speaking on behalf of Congress and the people of the United States, to present this much deserved and rather rare award."

The president drew a laugh from the several senators who attended the ceremony when

DE GAULLE WARNING

No Mercy For OAS

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle today coupled an appeal for nationwide support of his plans for Algerian self-determination with another warning that he would resort to "all-out war" against the secret army organization (OAS) if necessary.

De Gaulle recorded a radio-television message for broadcast to the nation tonight as the diehard OAS suffered one of its worst days so far in its campaign to keep Algeria French.

Originally, the French president had planned to concentrate on asking for a massive "yes" vote in the April 8 referendum on his Algerian peace policy.

But the outbreak of bloody fighting between the OAS and French troops in Algiers and Oran since Friday forced de Gaulle to issue a new tough warning that he is determined to crush the underground organization without mercy.

Homemade Sub Surface Trial Off Sausalito Called Success

Two East Bay men have plans to dive their homemade baby submarine in three weeks off the Sausalito shore.

A trial surface run Saturday was termed successful by co-builder David Moneypenney, first class electrician's mate with the Coast Guard at Alameda.

Moneypenney and his partner, Stan Schreiber, an Oakland civilian, built the craft Sea Deuce.

It is 26 feet long and weighs 7,000 pounds. Made from an old ocean liner air receiver of three-eights inch steel, it is powered on the surface by a 30-horsepower gasoline engine, and when submerged, by a three horsepower electric motor. There are three tanks for flooding.

Moneypenney said his interest in submarines came when he was in the submarine service prior to joining the coast guard. He said he once helped build a submarine in a Navy yard.

The men lowered the yellow craft Saturday by crane in Marinship near Don Bailey's pier. "We took it out 200 yards," said Moneypenney, "and had no trouble at all. The engine worked fine." The plan was to surface test only.

"We had trouble coming back when we lost fuel suction and had to be towed," he said.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

AUGUSTE PICCARD

Auguste Piccard Dies At 78

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UPI) — Prof. Auguste Piccard who achieved world renown for his ventures to the edge of space and the depths of the sea died Saturday night. He was 78.

An announcement issued yesterday said that Piccard, a commander of the French Legion of Honor, died of a heart attack.

Piccard, who often risked his life to advance man's knowledge, received world-wide acclaim for his epoch-making balloon flights into the stratosphere in 1931 and 1932.

The flights opened the way for important high altitude discoveries in the field of cosmic rays and other stratosphere phenomena.

The irrepressible Piccard ever seeking new scientific worlds to explore and conquer, turned his considerable talents to deep sea research after World War II.

With his son Jacques he built the successful bathyscaphe in which they descended to a depth of 10,330 feet in the bay of Naples near the Isle of Capri.

Jackie Ending Trip

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy bade farewell to the strange lands of camel rides and pink palaces today and flew off to renew her friendship with another of the world's famous women, Britain's Queen Elizabeth II.

Mrs. Kennedy was due to arrive in London tonight for what she hoped would be a chance to rest up before returning to her family at the White House Thursday.

She and her sister, Princess Radziwill, at whose home she will stay in London, stopped in Tehran for 50 minutes today en route from Pakistan.

Money Hijacked

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — With precision and speed, two men hijacked an armored car and fled with $88,269, all but $3,400 in cash.

The FBI entered the case but no leads were reported.

The two gunmen were described as unmasked white men wearing short-sleeved white shirts and dark trousers.

They were aided by accomplices in a following car.

The nature of the hijacking early yesterday indicated the gunmen had studied the truck's routine. The truck, owned by Guy Marvin Inc., had picked up the day's receipts from the Jacksonville Kennel Club Saturday.

Soviet Flights

BERLIN (UPI) — The Soviets scheduled three more military transport flights today in one of the Berlin air corridors.

The West again expressed its determination to keep the lifelines open to Berlin by planning its own military flights at the same altitude as the Rus-

Lost Aid Dollars?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigators for the House Foreign Affairs Committee say they have uncovered millions of dollars in U.S. foreign aid funds which have been obligated on paper but never spent.

A report released yesterday by the committee said that in Korea alone investigators had uncovered 17 million dollars in uncommitteod funds. Based on spot checks in Korea, South Viet Nam and Turkey, the investigators said, it is possible that there are "substantial hidden reserves available in all countries" receiving American aid.

Critical GI In Court

FORT POLK, La. (UPI)—Pfc. Bernis Owen, a reservist on active duty with the 49th (Texas) armored division today went before an army court martial on a charge of criticizing a general's banning of "we want out" demonstrations.

One of the 23-year-old GI's defense attorneys, Capt. Edgar Nash moved to have the trial moved to another military jurisdiction and asked for a postponement to allow more time to prepare a defense. The court rejected both motions.

Owen, a University of Texas student, was ordered to trial by special court martial after he criticized the order by Maj. Gen. Harley B. West of Dallas, division commander, forbidding demonstrations by reservists demanding release from active duty.

In an interview, Owen called the order a "hilarious climax to a chain of injustices."

Cap Pistol Death

HONOLULU (UPI)—A 12-year-old boy fatally wounded a schoolmate Saturday with a 98-cent cap pistol, according to Honolulu police.

The youth told the police he bought the toy gun several weeks ago at a dime store and managed to insert a 22-caliber cartridge into the barrel.

The boy said he cocked the toy and fired it at a friend, 8-year-old Durwin C. Oh. The bullet struck young Oh near the heart and he died a short time later.

Laos Talk Rejected

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma today rejected a royal invitation to visit Vietiane, dashing hopes that immediate results would arise from the weekend visit here of U.S. Assistant Secretary of State for far eastern affairs Averell Harriman.

Chuckle For JFK

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — President John F. Kennedy's visit to a rural church yesterday accomplished a thing which two years of persuasion by the pastor hadn't done.

The Rev. A. G. Edwards of the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church at nearby Palm Desert told the congregation—and the president—"We've had perhaps a half dozen conferences trying to get four telephone poles and the wires removed from in front of the church. Nothing ever happened.

"Then yesterday—miraculously — all the posts and wires were taken down."

Kennedy chuckled with the parishioners.

Calls Off Parley

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI)—President Sukarno today called off for the time being negotiations with the Netherlands on disputed West Irian (West New Guinea).

Sukarno said his emissary to the secret talks held in Washington would not return to the United States. A second representative will be recalled.

The announcement apparently did not mean a complete break-down in efforts to solve the dispute peacefully. Maj. Gen. Achemed Jani, chief of staff for Sukarno's West Irian operational command, said "the door is not entirely closed."

Eichmann Strain

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann showed signs of strain for the first time in his appeal against the death sentence today when the prosecution read documents relating to his role in the wartime Nazi campaign against the Jews.

The former SS officer under Adolf Hitler's regime appeared agitated in his bullet-proof glass defendant's box as attorney general Gideon Hausner continued the prosecution's case before a five-man Israeli supreme court panel.

Hausner began his statement before court adjourned Friday after Eichmann's German attorney, Robert Servatius, asked the court to reject Eichmann's conviction last December of mass murder of Jews during World War II. The appeal began last Tuesday.

Rusk May Come Home Tomorrow

GENEVA (AP) — The death of a United Nations official caused quick adjournment to today's session of the disarmament conference and delayed a final personal appeal by Secretary of State Dean Rusk for East-West agreement on limited arms accords.

Rusk had planned a final speech on disarmament before leaving for Washington tomorrow. But the session opened with the announcement of the death yesterday of T. G. Narayanan, 50, an Indian diplomat and U. N. representative at nuclear test ban talks.

Before the session adjourned, Rusk praised Narayanan as "an international civil servant of the highest dedication, a man of great character, a man of great talent."

U. S. officials said Rusk would not deliver his disarmament speech tomorrow.

Rusk also arranged a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in what was expected to be a final effort at Geneva to see whether any progress toward agreement on Berlin is possible.

Barring some new Soviet maneuver to break the Berlin or nuclear test deadlock, Rusk plans to leave Tuesday for Washington. He is expected to report to President John F. Kennedy that in spite of the stalemates on major issues, the meetings of the foreign ministers in Geneva have registered some gains.

Chief among these in Rusk's view has been the organization of the work of the disarmament conference as well as some clarification of Berlin issues resulting from his talks with Gromyko.

In the course of the talks Rusk reportedly emphasized repeatedly that the United States and its allies want a Berlin settlement but never at the cost of yielding their basic rights to maintain troops in the city and have access to it.

The United States and the Soviet Union opened the way for actual negotiations at the disarmament conference by agreeing on a system of committees to do the detailed bargaining. They also agreed that Soviet and Western proposals for disarmament would be given equal priority. Gromyko had first demanded top billing for the Soviet plan.

Western and Soviet officials both wrote off as a complete failure their efforts thus far to reach some agreement on a nuclear weapon test ban which would put an end to the race in development of new atomic weapons.

No Sign Of Settlement In Shipping Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The pinch of the West Coast shipping strike tightened on Hawaii today but in San Francisco there was no sign of settlement in the 10-day-old tie-up.

Officials of 13 major hotels along Honolulu's tourist center of Waikiki beach report drops of 5 to 25 per cent in occupancy since the strike began.

"It's disastrous," said Roy C. Kelley, owner of a Waikiki hotel chain. "People are getting out of here. They have a freightened feeling.

"I view the whole thing with a great deal of alarm."

Hawaii grocers report they are running out of staples such as rice and canned milk.

Their short supply of perishables got a slight boost when the container ship Hawaii Refiner docked at Pier 2 to unload perishables under agreement reached earlier in San Francisco Federal Court. But the arrival won't go far toward filling the needs of Hawaii's 620,000 population.

Hawaii's Gov. William F. Quinn has twice asked President John F. Kennedy to take steps toward ending the strike. In Palm Springs yesterday Kennedy's Press Secretary, Pierre Salinger, said the president is receiving reports on the strike from Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg. But Salinger said he knew nothin of Quinn's requests.

U.S., Russia Have Nerve Gas That Can Paralyze Whole City

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Both the United States and Russia are developing nerve gas capable of paralyzing a city's entire population for hours, according to Pentagon officials.

Assistant Army Secretary Fin nJ. Larson and Lt. Gen. Arthur J. Trudeau, Army Chief of research and development, gave the testimony to the Senate Armed Services Committee last January. It was made public last night.

Larsen, civilian head of the research program, said the nerve gas makes its victims incapable of realizing what they are doing for several hours. Once the effects wears off, he said, there is no permanent injury.

The army official said the government had information indicating that Russia probably has a large stockpile of the gas.

He said the United States had made considerable progress on the gas and was capable of delivering it to a target with vehicles ranging from a rocket to a drone-carried tank.

A nerve gas victim, Larsen said, becomes "disoriented" and "really does not know accurately what he is doing."

"A person might pick up a gun and might shoot someone, but certainly he is not likely to hit what he aims at," he added.

Trudeau said the army had been making drastic efforts for four years to perfect the nerve gas. He said the gas was capable of affecting both the victim's mental reaction and muscle structure.

He testified that the Army planned to ask for an additional 36 million dollars in the fiscal year starting July 1 to step up research on gas warfare.

Larsen said the army was developing its biological warfare program. He said this country was capable of delivering bacteria in "small bomblets" carried inside larg bombs or rockets.

Each bomblet can spread "the biological agent, individually, and can contaminate the area around it," he said.

Legislature Driving To Wind Up Session

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The drive was finally on in the legislature today to tackle the main business of the sluggish 1962 session.

Faced with mandatory adjournment of the 30-day budget session a week from tomorrow, the Assembly Ways and Means Committee aimed at getting Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 2.9 billion dollars spending program to the house floor within the next few days.

In the meantime, the first action is expected on the three most talked-about issues of the concurrent special session: Senate reapportionment, draw poker and four bond issues.

The Assembly Ways and Means and the Senate Finance Committees—both with Democratic majorities — aren't too far apart in their budget totals. But they differ on some touchy items which may cause trouble.

For instance, Ways and Means has approved the 29 million dollars allowance for the Department of Water Resources. Senate Finance cut it by $808,316, mostly for plans and studies for phases of the state water system.

Again, Ways and Means said yes and Finance said no to a $350,000 request to provide a Los Angeles headquarters for the state college trustees.

The Senate committee, in fact, told the trustees: move to Sacramento or we'll cut off state college administrative funds.

As for the special session, hearings called by legislative committees promise a decision early this week on:

Senate Reapportionment — The Assembly Constitutional Amendments Committee gets first crack at two rival proposals to give Los Angeles County more senators. No county has more than one now.

One measure, backed by Governor Brown, would provide three additional senators for Los Angeles and a second senator, eventually, for other metropolitan counties. It was introduced by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles).

The other, by Assemblyman Vernon Kilpatrick (D-Lynwood) would reapportion the entire Senate on a population basis—just like the Assembly. Los Angeles would wind up with 10 of the 40 senators.

Rural senators who control the Unruh bill, icy cold toward Kilpatrick's. Any proposal approved by the legislature would be subject to a vote on the November ballot.

Draw Poker—The Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee can take its choice of a variety of bills to regulate or outlaw commercial draw poker parlors.

Bills by Assemblyman George A. Willson (D-Huntington Park) provide for an outright ban, a 10-year moratorium on any new establishments, restricting poker clubs to no more than five tables or no more than three tables, and county option on allowing poker parlors.

Governor Brown has come out for the local option approach.

Bonds—Committees of both houses will rule during the week on the governor's 820-million-dollar bond program.

Normally, bond measures go through fairly routinely. In this election year session, however, they've been caught in a partisan crossfire.

The dispute? Brown wants to place two issues each on the June and November election. Assembly Republicans demand all four appear on the November ballot.

Littleman Customers Can Vote For Clerk

Ballots will be available during the month at all the stores, said president Leon Miller. Cash bonuses of almost $1,000 will be divided among winners.

San Jose, Novato Boards Meet Tonight

Novato Unified and San Jose Elementary School district boards will discuss the future of the San Jose district at a special meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the Novato district administration building.

Three elections on unification of the two districts have been unsuccessful. Whether to try a fourth time, try annexation or splitting the San Jose District, will be discussed by the boards.

$4,000 Sailing Sloop Burns In Belvedere

The $4,000, 30-foot sailing sloop, Jackie II, went up in smoke in a spectacular blaze off Belvedere last Saturday.

The boat, owned by Leonard M. Sullivan, 43, a hair stylist of 48 Catalpa Avenue, Mill Valley, caught fire about 300 yards offshore when an inboard auxiliary engine overheated. Sullivan and a friend, Roger Packer, 25, a San Francisco architectural student, rowed to safety in a dinghy.

Packer reportedly pulled Sullivan, a non-swimmer, into the boat's dinghy. Sullivan escaped with singed eyebrows. Packer was unhurt.

Coast Guardsmen and 20 Belvedere firemen fought the blaze after the boat ran aground on the southwest shore of Belvedere Island.

Magazines Cutting Issues

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Saturday Evening Post, the Ladies Home Journal and American Home Magazines will publish fewer issues this year under a multi-million dollar cost reduction program by the Curtis Publishing Co.

Curtis President Robert E. MacNeal, in an announcement to 12,000 employees yesterday, said the reduction was necessary to reverse heavy financial losses and bring publication in line with "modern needs and opportunities."

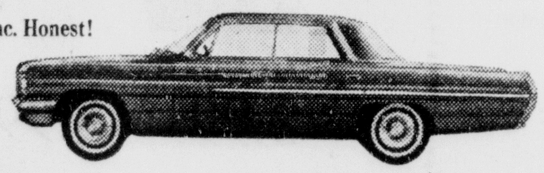

MacNeal said the Post would publish 45 issues every other week, instead of weekly, during the period between July 4 and Labor Day. The Ladies Home Journal and American Home each will have 10 issues including a summer issue combining July and August and a winter issue combining January and February.

Eight Candidates Seeking Novato City Council Posts

Eight candidates are before voters in Novato for election to two city council posts on April 10.

This keeps up the red hot race tradition established by Novato's first city election in January, 1960, when 24 candidates battled down to the wire for the five positions making up the first city council.

Four of those five are still in office, one having resigned during the two years. Of the two whose terms expire, however, neither is seeking reelection. Mayor Wayne Womack is running for county supervisor. Charles R. Johnson has decided to step out of public office.

Four of the eight in this year's contest are repeaters, however, Eugene R. Trombley, Mrs. Lucille H. Cannon, Francis J. Picchi and Robert G. Johnson were among the 19 unsuccessful candidates in the incorporation election in 1960.

Here are the candidates for the two openings on the city council of Marin's newest—and second largest—city:

LUCILLE H. CANNON

LUCILLE HALL CANNON, 53, wife of retired Air Force Col. Robin C. Cannon, is the only woman in the field of eight. She ran 12th in the 24-candidate field in January, 1960, and has since served on several committees set up by the new city.

In Mrs. Cannon's initial campaign she supported largely the program that was adopted by the elected council. She has declared herself against continuing the Highway 101 freeway through the middle of town—an issue today as two years ago.

Mrs. Cannon was born in San Francisco. She was graduated from Lowell High School, attended Mills College, and received her B.A. degree from University of California. She did secretarial work before marriage.

She and her husband and three children live at 890 Tamalpais Avenue.

EUGENE R. TROMBLEY

JAMES A. DOUGHERTY, 40, is a public accountant, a resident of Novato for 10 years with his business there for 12 years.

He helped organize both the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts in Novato and is senior past commander of the VFW post. He is a member of the California Public Accountants Assn.

He was born in New Orleans, attended St. Aloysius High School there and Golden Gate College in San Francisco. He served six years in the Navy.

Dougherty, his wife Helen, and their four children live at 1557 Center Road.

RALPH J. SALVEMINI

ROBERT G. JOHNSON, 42, is making his second try for the Novato Council. He ran 14th in the first Novato election. He is a member of the Novato Planning Commission.

Johnson is active in organized labor, being president of Tile Layers Union Local 19 in San Francisco. He advocates "a voice for labor" in Novato government.

He has opposed continuing the freeway on its present route.

Johnson was born in White Swan, Wash., and completed high school there. He is a member of Yakima, Wash., Masonic Lodge 24, and of Novato Chapter 609, Order of Eastern Star. He has been active in scouting.

He and his wife, Nancy June, and their four children live at 31 Loma Vista.

HOWARD W. SCHOOF

JAMES F. McCONNELL, 30, is chief appraiser for the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. and was formerly with the county assessor's office. He has resided in Novato four years.

He served as chairman of the residential density study committee in the Novato master plan study. He is a member of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce, which honored him recently for his outstanding service to the community.

McConnell grew up in Marin, attending Tamalpais High School and College of Marin. He served with the Seventh Army Division in Korea.

The young appraiser has urged removing the freeway from downtown Novato.

McConnell and his wife, Carol, and their three children live at 25 Plaza Loma.

FRANCIS JAMES PICCHI, 50, is in the real estate business. He has been a Novato resident five years, and ran 13th in the initial city council election.

Picchi chose Novato for his permanent home on retirement from the Air Force, after completing his service in March, 1958, as personnel officer at Hamilton Air Force Base.

He is a graduate of San Francisco State College. He is a member of the Novato Kiwanis Club, Novato Squares, Marin County Real Estate Board, National Assn. of Real Estate Brokers and California Real Estate Certificate Institute.

He and his wife, Gertrude, have six children. They live at 4 Sunnyhill Road.

RALPH J. SALVEMINI, 34, is an office assistant in the main office of Standard Oil Co. of California in San Francisco.

Salvemini was born in San Francisco and attended schools there, including University of San Francisco. He is vice president of the men's club of Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church.

He served three years in the Army.

Salvemini has declared the freeway should be located east of town, and urges immediate acquisition by the city of park property.

Salvemini and his wife, Mary, live at 560 Arthur Street with their two children.

HOWARD W. SCHOOF, 40, is well known to many throughout Marin for his work as assistant scout executive of the Marin Council of Boy Scouts of America. He came to Marin four years ago to assume this post, formerly serving as scout executive at Santa Ana.

Schoof was born in New Jersey. He received his bachelor's degree from University of California. He was a Marine Corps aviator in World War II.

For 14 years, Schoof has been a professional Boy Scout worker.

The Schoof family—Howard; his wife, Millie, and their four daughters—live at 2033 Shady Lane.

EUGENE R. TROMBLEY, 49, the fourth candidate making his second try for election to the Novato council, is a hardware dealer and, like Picchi, a retired Air Force major.

Tromblew has lived in Novato since 1954. For two years, he has owned Trombley's Novato Hardware. Previously he was a stockbroker and did public relations work, in addition to his Air Force service.

He is a member of the Novato Rotary Club, Air Force Reserve, and the Press and Union League Club in San Francisco.

Trombley believes the present Highway 101 should become a business street, with the freeway moved east of town.

He and his wife, Jean, live at 1438 Buchanan Street. A daughter, Mrs. Jean Maloney, lives in New York.

Sacramento Driver Killed, 3 Marinites Hurt In Wreck

Three Marin residents were injured and a Sacramento man killed last night in a four-car pile-up just west of the Sonoma Creek bridge on Highway 48, the Sears Point road.

Harold W. Joslin, 50, of 130 Hidden Valley Lane, Sleepy Hollow, suffered a fracture of the left arm and left shoulder injuries; his wife, Helen, 49, rib fractures, and Ann Rice, 18, of 215-A Panoramic Highway, Mill Valley, was bruised and shaken up. The Joslins were transferred from Sonoma Valley Hospital to Ross General Hospital today. Miss Rice was to be released from the Sonoma hospital this afternoon.

Killed in the accident was Aluis W. Hokit, 27, of Sacramento.

The California Highway Patrol reported an eastbound car driven by Hokit collided head on with the westbound Joslin car 20 feet west of the bridge. The vehicle driven by Ann Rice, also westbound, piled into the wreckage, which was also hit by a car and trailer driven by Delbert Anderson of Sacramento.

A Hamilton Air Force Base airman who went to sleep while driving north on Highway 101 just south of the Black Point cutoff early yesterday woke up to find his car cross-wise to the highway.

Before he could recover control, A/2c James Pearce Weber told the California Highway Patrol, the vehicle had skidded off the road and rammed first a tree trunk and then an old building on property recently bought by the state for highway contruction.

Pearce, who is with the 78th Flight Maintenance Squadron, was treated for minor cuts and bruises at the air base hospital.

A Novato woman ditched her car and tore down 25 feet of barbed wire fence a mile west of Nicasio early yesterday, suffering minor injuries.

Mrs. Virginia Johnson of 5 Villa Place, Novato, told the Highway Patrol she had just left a restaurant and was homeward bound on the Petaluma-Point Reyes Road when an approaching car forced her vehicle off the road.

She was treated for cuts and bruises at Hamilton Air Force Base hospital.

Two men suffered minor injuries when their car ran into a stalled vehicle southbound on the Golden Gate Bridge at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Robert Cummings Dunham of 14 Scenic Avenue, San Rafael, was driving with Chester Neel as passenger when his auto hit the halted car of Philip D. Mortenson, student from Arcadia, Los Angeles County, about midspan. Dunham suffered a small cut at the hairline and Neel, who address was not recorded, hurt his head but both declined hospitalization.

Leticia Sanchez, one of five San Franciscans in a car which crashed into the rear of another on Highway 101 at the Black Point cutoff, was treated for a severely cut forehead at Novato General Hospital shortly after 5 p.m. yesterday.

Her mother, Dominga Sanchez, suffered a cut leg. The driver of the car, Carlos Albert Brito, 35, his wife, Melita Brito, 30, and their seven-month-old son, William, were unhurt. Those treated were released.

The driver and two passengers in the second car, all of Palo Alto, were unhurt. They were Thomas Edward Walsh, 28, Nancy Walsh, 28, and Sue L. Frane, 19.

California Highway Patrol reported the southbound car driven by Brito struck the rear of Walsh's car as the latter was stopped for the red traffic signal.

Ex-Policeman's Accomplice Gets Prison

Robert Harris Miller, 37, San Francisco refrigeration store employee, was given a one-to-14-year suspended state prison sentence and five years supervised probation today for burglary of Shamrock Materials.

Miller, accomplice of former San Rafael Policeman Arthur M. Newman, 34, was sentenced in Marin Superior Court by Judge Thomas F. Keating after a probation report recommended leniency.

As Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety concurred in the recommendation, the judge said he was taking this into account along with Miller's war record and the fact that he had had no trouble with the law in many years.

The judge added that the crimes of which Miller was accused appeared to be "abortive attempts." Miller pleaded guilty several weeks ago. Garety indicated he cooperated with the prosecution of the case against Newman.

Resetting of trial of Newman on conspiracy, robbery and burglary charges today was continued to Monday. He has pleaded innocent to conspiring to rob the Purity Store in Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael Sept. 18, 1961; to robbing the same store April 2, 1960, of $2,645 loot; to the $17,000 jewel burglary of the M.A.C. Department Store July 31, 1960; and to burglary of Stenstrom Buick Co. on Sept. 30, 1960.

Newman has pleaded guilty to planning the armed robbery of the Purity Store in Northgate and taking part in two burglaries. He will be sentenced on these counts Monday and faces a possible one-year-to-life term in state prison.

Hearing Tonight On Novato Plan

A hearing on the land use portion of the Novato master plan will be held at 8 o'clock in the community building.

In addition to the land use, a hearing on establishing an exclusive commercial district will also be continued by the Novato Planning Commission.

Other items to come before the commission include a tentative map for a subdivision submitted by E. F. and Thelma Jorgensen on Center Road, and a use permit by Gus Ravetz to establish a trailer park on 10 acres between Cherry and Peach Streets east of Railroad Avenue.

Musical Instruments Lead To Pair's Arrest

Sausalito police yesterday arrested two youths in whose car they found about $1,000 worth of musical instruments, reported as stolen in Fairfax last month.

Mason West, 19, of 79 Spruce Road, Fairfax, was charged with drunkennes and grand theft. He was freed on $1,050 bail. Jimmy James Allen Calkins, 18, of 1567 Fourth Street, San Rafael, was bokked on suspicion of drunkennes, receiving stolen property and violation of parole. He was held without bail because of the parole violation.

Sausalito Police Officer Michael S. Bernie said he arrested the pair at 3:15 a.m. yesterday when he saw their car stopped at 113 Caledonia Street and became suspicious. Two guitars and an amplifier were found in the back of the car, Bernie said.

Fairfax Police Sgt. Charles Grasso said the instruments had been stolen from a parked car in Fairfax on Feb. 22. The car belonged to Eugene Lee, a musician of 88 Rocco Drive, Fairfax.

West and Calkins were scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court on Wesdnesday at 1:30 p.m.

Smith Files Suit Against School Board

William J. J. Smith filed suit in Marin Superior Court today against the Novato Unified School District board to regain his job as district superintendent.

In a suit for a writ of mandate, Smith charged the board, and specifically three of its members, had deprived him of his rights under the state education code, unlawfully depriving him of his position.

The suit named trustees Joseph Sereda, William Kirk and Earl Marshall. It was filed by attorney Arthur Lebow of San Rafael. It demanded Smith be restored to his position immediately.

Earlier this month Smith told the board he was withdrawing his resignation tendered last Dec. 19. He demanded the board rescind its acceptance of his resignation. Last Tuesday the board by 3-2 vote refused to do so.

he said: "I suppose he's (Frost) disappointed that it wasn't controversial but was unanimously given."

"We are proud of you, Mr. Frost," Kennedy said.

The medal, which was designed in consultation with the poet, shows Frost's profile.

"This is a great, great day," said Frost. He noted that the president had set up an office of fine arts "where you can keep track of me."

He said he hoped the office would last a long time "before it becomes too much of a department."

Frost presented to the president a copy his new book of poems, "In The Clearing."

The poet was to be honored tonight at a dinner given by Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall at the Pan American Union.

THE COMMUNIST OATH

"I now take my place in the ranks of the Communist Party, the Party of the working class. I pledge myself to spare no effort in uniting the workers in militant struggle against fascism and war. I pledge myself to work unsparingly in the unions, in the shops, among the unemployed, to lead the struggles for the daily needs of the masses. I solemnly pledge myself to take my place in the forefront of the struggle for Negro Rights, against Jim-Crowism and lynching, against the chauvinist lies of the ruling class. I PLEDGE MY SELF TO TALLY THE MASSES TO DEFEND THE SOVIET UNION, THE LAND OF VICTORIOUS SOCIALISM. I PLEDGE MYSELF TO REMAIN AT ALL TIMES A VIGILANT AND FIRM DEFENDER OF THE LENINIST LINE OF THE PARTY, THE ONLY LINE THAT INSURES THE TRIUMPH OF SOVIET POWER IN THE UNITED STATES."

Lenin, Selected Works—Vol. 3, pp. 110-111

Only those who have taken this oath, and still persist in hiding behind the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution of the U.S.A., have anything to fear if the Initiative Constitutional Amendment—Article XXVIII "Control of Subversive Activities" known as the Louis Francis Initiative, qualifies and becomes law in the State of California.

Every country to date, which has been taken over by the Communists, has been taken over from the inside. Why do American Citizens refuse to believe the Soviets, when they say they are going to bury us?

Freedom is every Americans' business. If we refuse to use our freedom, to protect our freedom, until it is too late, then we deserve what we shall surely receive, which is the fulfillment of the Commie Oath.

HEADACHES CALLED PAIN IN NECK
by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

A University of Southern California professor of Neuro-surgery says that headaches are actually pains in the neck. What the professor means is that the most common cause of headache is neck strain.

You see, there are twenty-four bones known as vertebrae in your spine. These vertebrae are somewhat movable. A fall, a minor accident in which the head is snapped out of position or even poor posture can cause a slight misalignment of one or more vertebrae.

The headache results because nerves branching out from the spinal cord are pinched by the movable vertebrae. A headache, of course, is really only one of nature's warning signs that something is wrong.

Nerves pinched by vertebrae can cause many serious ailments besides headache. Nerves flow down the spine to all cells, organs, and muscles of the body. Your body cannot function properly when nerves are pinched. A proper supply of nerve energy is needed for health.

Chiropractors are well-trained in removing such nerve interference.

Dr. R. W. Pearce, D.C., practices the Palmer Method. His office is at 1628 Fifth Ave., San Rafael, GL 3-6201 (Adv.)

Petitions Due For Stinson, Bolinas Area

Petitions to form a Stinson Beach-Bolinas sanitary district will be circulated as soon as they can be drawn up by the county counsel's office.

Announcement of the intention to petition for a "special district to handle sewage on the east side of Bolinas Lagoon" was made Friday night at a meeting of the Stinson Beach Progressive Club.

About 75 residents of the area attended the meeting, and several said they would be willing to serve on the district's first board of directors, if the district is formed.

No landowners requested exclusion from the proposed district at the meeting, said Harriet M. Greene, secretary. Boundaries of the district will set up after initial petitions have been circulated.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr and Marvin W. Brigham, public works director, were among several county officials who attended the meeting. Behr said public health needs and expected growth in the area because of the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore required a sanitary district.

Assemblyman Bagley Files Declaration

Assemblyman William T. Bagley of San Rafael today filed declaration of his candidacy for Republican nomination for reelection.

He became the 112th Marin candidate to take out papers to run in the June 5 primary election. Last week Novato attorney Robert D. Carrow filed his declaration for Democratic nomination for Bagley's seat.

Contra Costa, Solano Back Seashore

A questionnaire mailed to voters of Contra Costa and Solano Counties showed 60.88 per cent of the respondents in favor of a 53,000-acre Point Reyes National Seashore, it was announced today.

Rep. John F. Baldwin (R-Calif.) said opposition to the park was expressed by 18.82 per cent, with 20.3 per cent undecided. Baldwin's Sixth California Congressional District includes the two counties.

Marin County Supervisor George Ludy of Inverness, representing the Fourth Supervisorial District which includes the proposed federal project, said today he thought there has been a switch of opinion in his area toward more favorable sentiment during the past week.

"Along the Marin County west coast I'd say that at least 85 per cent have been against the park in 53,000-acre size," said Ludy. "But the amendment said to have been written in just before favorable committee report in the House seems to save it.

"So far I have not seen any precise text but from what I've heard, this seems to meet what we had asked and I can't see why anybody should be against it now."

The amendment is understood to provide that ranchers finding themselves unable to continue as such will either be left free to use their land for other purposes, or the government may condemn and pay a fair price. Previously the ranchers had been bound to ranch use only, with no assurance that the government would purchase.

County Budget Conferences Get Under Way

Seven budget conferences were being conducted today by County Administrator Alan Bruce and Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell as openers for a series of 31 such meetings designed to bring county department heads and administrator into agreement, if possible, on 1962-63 fiscal year needs.

First to be interviewed was Tax Collector-Treasurer M. F. Donohue, who dealt largely with the presumed needs of his successor, as he is retiring at the end of this year.

Other interviewed today were County Counsel E. Warren McGuire, Communications Director F. Mansfield Lewis District Attorney Roger P. Garety, Sealer Kenneth Brown, Justice David R. Baty of the Northwest Judicial District court and Agricultural Commissioner Richard T. Straw.

The schedule will be resumed Wednesday morning and continue through April 6, to which has been allocated only the complex affairs of the Public Works Department, to be discussed by its director Marvin W. Brigham.

In cases where the department head holds out for a request different from and presumably higher than the amount recommended by the administrator, this will be explained in Bruce's "budget narrative" which will be presented with the preliminary budget May 21. It will then be up to the supervisors to adjudicate such differences. They will start this job June 13 after dealing specifically with salary problems June 11.

CITY VOTERS GET BOOST FROM COURT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court held today that city voters who contend they do not have fair representation in state legislatures are entitled to a hearing in federal courts.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., speaking for the high tribunal in a case from Tennessee, said a special federal court in Nashville should hear a complaint that a minority of rural voters in that state elect and control a majority of the state's legislators.

OTHER STATES

The issue, however, extends far beyond single state interest. In numerous other states, there are situations which city voters contend are similar—a pattern of rural voters controlling the legislature's makeup.

The complaint in Tennessee was brought by metropolitan area voters who said they have been discriminated against by refusal of entrenched rural legislators to reapportion election districts in line with the boom in city population and dwindling farm population.

Brennan said it would not be necessary for the special court in Nashville to decide whether allegations by city voters of impairment of their votes by an apportionment in Tennessee "will ultimately entitle them to any relief, in order to hold that they have standing to seek it."

The special court in Nashville had dismissed urban voters' complaints with the explanation that earlier Supreme Court decisions barred federal intervention in such political matters.

TWO DISSENTERS

The Supreme Court's vote was 6-2. Justices Felix Frankfurter and John M. Harlan each wrote dissenting opinions. Justice Charles Evans Whittaker took no part.

The group of Tennessee city voters pressing the case to the Supreme Court said similar rural domination situations exist in more than half the states.

In Tennessee and many other states, they said, rural districts are able to control taxes, spending and other legislation without proper regard for needs of growing urban populations.

Tennessee's constitution calls for reapportionment of the General Assembly every 10 years by counties or districts, according to the number of qualified voters. But the Tennessee Legislature has refused since 1901 to reapportion seats in that body.

Today's high court decision simply opens the way for the complaining city voters to pursue the matter in lower federal courts.

FRONDIZI FORMS NEW CABINET

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Arturo Frondizi completed formation of a cabinet today with appointment of Dr. Tiburcio Padilla as minister of public health and social aid.

Palace announcement said the new government would be sworn in today.

It appeared Frondizi had won his race against time—the Monday noon deadline set by the armed forces for formation of a coalition government.

The president's success in forming a cabinet was expected to lift at least some of the military pressure off the chief executive.

The navy had been clamoring for Frondizi to step down to enable a constitutional settlement of the crisis, while the army and air force awaited the outcome of mediation efforts conducted by former President Pedro Eugenio Ramburu.

The Peronists, whose election victories drove Frondizi into a corner, appeared pushed into a corner, appeared pushed milling crisis.

Martha Raye Is Found Unconscious

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Martha Raye was found unconscious late last night on a deserted stretch of beach near her home at suburban Malibu.

A county fire department rescue squad revived her with a resuscitator. She was treated at Malibu Emergency Hospital and transferred to Hollywood West Hospital here.

Her physcian, Dr. Morris Katz, said she evidently collapsed from exhaustion while walking alone on the sand. He said she is in good condition but will stay in the hospital a day or two.

The physcian said the comedienne was found on the beach by one of her former husbands and her daughter who had become worried about her. Dr. Katz declined to identify the former husband or the daughter.

Divorced six times, Miss Raye has a daughter, 18, by her fourth husband, Nick Condos, a former night club dancer.

Her husbands were, in order, Buddy Westmore, David Rose, Neal Lang, Condos, Edward Begley and Robert O'Shea.

At the emergency hospital she gave her age as 46. Attendants said she appeared to be in excellent spirits.

IQ What's your child's physical IQ?

Chances are it doesn't measure up. The fact is that almost half of our youngsters today lack the strength and agility to pass a simple physical achievement test.

The remedy? More emphasis on vigorous physical activity. At least 15 minutes of every daily physical education period devoted to vigorous body-building exercise.

What to do? At your next PTA meeting, urge the adoption of a program that will give all youngsters a chance to develop their bodies.

It could be the program of The President's Council on Youth Fitness—or a similar one—easy to administer at little cost to your school. Act!

Never Too Late To Learn; Many Adult Class In Marin

Swift advances in science, commerce, industrial automation and technological fields leave millions of adults far behind developments in everyday life; to such an extent that a national adult education program is advocated as part of the public school system. Object is to prepare adults in the wage-earning years to meet the radical new changes which may render obsolete many present day crafts. Also to help adults overcome educational deficiencies.

A cursory survey of Marin County's adult education programs within its public school systems reveals approximately 4500 enrolled in adult classes in high schools and College of Marin. Age of students extends from late teens into the seventies. Educational background runs the gamut from incomplete high school courses to possession of college degrees.

The variety of courses available is incredibly broad. More courses will be available if demand is sufficient and funds and qualified instructors are available.

Further extension is sought by two committees, headed by Dr. Alfred Briggs of College of Marin. One is active at high school and junior college levels; another with the extension departments of University of California, San Francisco State College and Dominican College, to further adult study for college credits and post-graduate work.

Fall registration at College of Marin brought 342 adults into 19 college credit classes; nearly 2,500 adults of all ages enrolled in 69 non-credit classes. New courses include quality control and reliability engineering, also data processing.

San Rafael High offers classes leading to high school diplomas, conversational Spanish, general science, commercial courses, plus driver training for new autoists and a special training course for bus drivers. Both San Rafael and Terra Linda offer courses in parent training, in connection with their nursery schools.

At Hamilton Air Force Base, San Rafael High has several hundred military and civilian students in classes leading to high school diplomas. At the same base, San Francisco State College conducts classes for officers and others seeking to complete their college courses.

Novato High's adult program is mainly non-credit; offering work in crafts, business instruction, woodworking to broaden skills or recreational abilities.

Tonight, Tamalpais High School District starts adult enrollment for its Spring quarter adult classes, with a number of educational, vocational and recreational courses offered.

No longer can a Marin adult blame his educational deficiencies on youthful misfortunes or lack of schooling facilities. Our public school systems now afford all adults a wealth of educational and vocational subjects. From now on, onus for lack of learning rests upon the individual adult.

THE PARADOX OF LOVE—I

Many a person goes through a whole lifetime without realizing that:

* Love finds the element of good and uilds on it. It does not magnify defets.
* Love is a flame that warms but never burns.
* Love sees the other person's point of view even when he cannot embrace it.
* Love knows how to disagree without becoming disagreeable.
* Love rejoices at the success of others instead of being envious.
* Love puts up with people's whims and peculiarities without being self-righteous about it.

Ponder frequently and prayerfully this good advice of Paul, the Apostle:

"Charity is patient, is kind; charity does not envy, is not pretentious, is not puffed up, is not ambitious, is not self-seeking, is not provoked; thinks no evil, does not rejoice over wickedness, but rejoices with the truth; bears with all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things." (1 Corinthians 13:4-7)

Let me be an instrument of Your love, O Lord.

You Might Have Healthier Teeth If You Kept Your Mouth Shut

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Does your wife talk too much? Tell her she'll have lower dental bills if she'll just shut her trap. The British Dental Assn. reports "chatter boxes" are more prone to tooth decay because an open mouth exposes the teeth to erosion from elements in the air.

Our crowded globe: Three babies are born in the world every second. The countries whose rate of population growth is highest are Costa Rica, Red China and Mexico.

How much do you use your car? Despite the building of new high-speed highways, the average owner wheels the family bus only about 10,000 miles a year, the same as he did 20 years ago.

The Japanese have been infected by rock 'n' roll tunes, but they also cling to classical Western music. Tokyo alone has seven symphony orchestras.

Did you know that anonymous letter writers who lick the envelopes containing their "poison pen" notes can now be trapped by a newly discovered saliva test?

Navel maneuvers: Egyptian belly dancers have a clause in their contracts entitling them to a five-minute, pre-performance warmup.

Here's one reason 80 per cent of medical students plan on becoming specialists: General practitioners net about $16,000 annually, specialists $35,000.

STAR GAZERS: It is estimated that astrology has 30 million followers in America, hundreds of millions abroad.

History lesson: Can you name the only U.S. president who was inaugurated in two cities and never lived in Washington, D.C.? He was George Washington, inaugurated at New York City in 1789 and in Philadelphia in 1793.

GEM LORE: Diamonds may be a girl's best friend, but flawless rubies are more valuable than diamonds, emeralds or sapphires.

It was Oscar Wilde who observed: "Men always want to be a woman's first love; women have a more subtle instinct: What they like is to be a man's last romance."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

No Qualifications On Opinions

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

. . . I would like to ask some of the citizen groups (favoring the Francis Amendment), whether they would like to have their beliefs and their institutions subjected to the scrutiny of such committees and agencies as Mr. Francis proposes.

Would the liberal Protestants and the Catholics want their beliefs to be examined by some of the religious bigots now members of some congressional committees?

What trust would the Catholic clergy put in such bigots were Italy to succumb to Communism and Rome become a captive city? Would that not perhaps mean being called upon to renounce a firm faith in the ability of such captivity to be ended when opposed to the immediate demands for affirmation of "loyalty" to "free" institutions?

It is my personal conviction that no qualifications as to private opinions should be attached to the right of any citizen to practice his profession. There is however a necessary determination as to whether a teacher should allow such personal convictions as he may have to interfere with his committment as a teacher.

No teacher, with personal and professional integrity, could espouse any dogma that requires presentation of only its own views and repression of other possibilities. Much less Communist affiliation, no conscientious teacher would allow his own strong commitment to either of the existing American political parties to interfere with his teaching about political institutions.

To teach competently, the dedicated teacher must be free to examine and to criticize and to encourage his students to do likewise. Criticism must imply the right to assert what is right and what is wrong according to the evidence available. If one is secure in the belief that our political institutions have no equal on earth, one may freely suggest their deficiencies that they be further strengthened.

If one is convinced that for all of its faults the economic system we operate under has produced a maximum of benefit, one may suggest that its weaknesses and its inconsistencies be corrected. And that its failings be admitted and explained.

One may even suggest that there are areas of the world in which this system cannot operate because the factors necessary for a successful capitalistic system do not and will never exist because the earth itself has failed to yield resources . . .

Were I personally to have to conform to what I suspect will be the demands of the Francis select committees, I should be unable to maintain my own personal integrity and remain in the teaching profession. I have alternative sources of income, much less intellectually rewarding and certainly of little value directly to the questing youth I have come to know and appreciate and like.

I suspect that there are a good many other teachers who would elect to leave their profession if censorship and investigation and suspicion become the hallmark of the trade . . .

Thank You For Family Circle

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I wish to thank the I-J for carrying The Family Circle. The artist either has a keen sense of the minds of parents and child or he has these experiences himself.

I was particularly amused by one a time ago where the mother was taking a bath and the children came in and smothered her with bath toys.

I have two little girl grandchildren and when I visit them, the height of the visit is to be allowed to take a bath in a tub of ducks and swans, boats and subs hoping in vain you will find the soap.

I love the experience every time. I love the Family Circle every time. Clippings of it have gone far and near by me.

Open Area Plan Opposition Hit

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your reporter completely covered the discussion of the Inverness zoning at the Planning Commission meeting yesterday. But we do wish he had covered the applications for apartments. As an onlooker, I was amazed to see the pressure exerted on the conscientious and devoted people that make up the staff and members of the commission. If this continues unabated, we will have slum areas instead of individual homes, all over Marin County.

The discussion on the new zoning ordinance, that would create an open area district, was particularly enlightening. The Water District representatives were there in force determined to destroy it. While it was admitted that the M.M.W.D. is not interested in recreation, they would not accept rezoning the parcels of land declared surplus.

As a long-time taxpayer in Marin County and deeply interested in extension of open space areas for our growing population, it seems to me that we, the water consumers, have paid for the Water District land. It belongs to the people of Marin County and not to any real estate developer.

It would indeed be a great loss to the entire Bay Area and to all others, who have heard of "Marvelous Marin," to allow any of this most beautiful area to be chewed up by bulldozers and power saws. There are some values that can not be measured in dollars.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Anxious to know the exact meaning of "public relations," a student went straight to the horse's mouth: Mr. Ben Sonnenberg, generally considered the smartest public relations expert extant. His explanation was this: "Let us take a young man, vice president of an important bank. He comes from a socially prominent family. Its family escutcheon has always been glitteringly bright, but our young man has tarnished it somewhat. He has been divorced twice, runs around with a fast set, and his name has been popping up in the scandal and gossip columns. What I do for him is simple: I blow the dust off his escutcheon and make it glitter again!"

On the porch of Tannenbaum's Manor, a stout lady earnestly assured the occupant of the next rocker, "My husband holds an extremely responsible position. No matter what goes wrong, he's responsible."

W. C. Fields, never known as a teetotaler, was suffering from a really stupendous hangover one morning at the Paramount lot. "Let me fix you a Seltzer," suggested the director. "Oh, no, not that," groaned Fields. "I couldn't stand the racket."

Mill Valley Librarian Seeks Good Samaritan Who Lost Screwdriver

THERE ARE MANY untold stories of the roads and highways. This is the story of a short librarian, Mae Durham from Mill Valley, who broke down on the road.

Mae was en route to Berkeley to teach students about books when her small white car just died. "It was frightening," she said, but she coasted to a safe shoulder on Highway 101 near the Corte Madera overpass.

She checked the fan belt. It was on. That was all she knew of mechanics.

Then a man with a cigar stopped and said, "What's wrong?" Mae said "I don't know."

"Does the motor turn over?" he asked. "I don't know," Mae replied. "Hop into my car and I'll take you to the three A's," he said. Mae said to us, "I wouldn't hop into any strange man's car."

ANOTHER MAN drove up. "Do you need some help, Ma'am?" he asked. Getting out his tools and peering into the engine. The man with the cigar said he was late for work and left.

The new man started to check the car. "Are you out of gas?" said he. "I don't know," said Mae, "my gas meter doesn't work."

He checked the distributor, cleaned the spark plugs and looked over the points. "The points are worn out," he said.

"He cleaned the whole engine," said Mae, "taking from 8:20 to 9:15 a.m."

Mae told him, she said, "I may be out of gas."

"Yes ma'am," said he. Then the man asked Mae to try the starter. When he had everything tuned up, Mae reported he said, "Stay where you are. I'll go and get some gas." He got the gas, poured it in and the car worked. Then he cleaned the air lock, said Mae.

He followed her to the San Quentin turnoff and told her what to tell the mechanic when she took the car to the garage. "Be sure and have the points replaced," he said.

MAE ASKED: "Can I offer you something for all your trouble?" He answered, "Yes, ma,am, would you pay for the gas?"

Later when Mae was getting gas in Richmond, the attendant opened the engine and said, "There's a screwdriver here."

"I wish I knew the man's name," said Mae. "He has renewed my faith in mankind."

Vol. III of the Poseidon, the featherflocker and other sour mash from the bar with no name, is out in Sausalito. A literary journal. Editor Neil Davis has used free license—all the news on Page one and six poems by Carlotta di Fasso on page two.

THE OTHER DAY we met two Abyssinian cats. They were stalking each other in some ivy on a crooked street in Mill Valley.

Their names are Frank and Jesse James. Frank is calm and prefers women. Jesse is small but a vibrant, leader type. He likes to stalk men. If you go into another room and whisper "Jesse," Jesse will stalk, stalk you, playing hide and seek.

The James brothers stalk at the home of Larry and Anita Phillips and also that of Regina, aged 8.

They are one of the oldest breeds of cat, dating to ancient Egypt where they were worshipped as gods.

They have orange eyes. Their coats are made of hair with four colors, dusty orange at the skin, then a black strip, orange, then black at the tip.

They eat canned food, popcorn, cheese, pancakes, eggs and grass. "They look at milk now and then," said Phillips. "Water fascinates them . . . smartest cats I have ever had."

In Sausalito there aren't as many moles as there used to be, it seems. Tombstone, a cat owned by Mrs. Harry Elliott, brought one home the other day and put it on the doorstep. Mrs. Elliott said that when she first moved to Sausalito there were plenty of moles. She still has a mole skin purse and 15-20 pelts. All Sausalito moles, fur like mink.

Fascism, Not Communism, Is Root Of Peronista Upset In Argentine

THE CRISIS in the Argentine boiled up when President Frondizi risked permitting a free election. Since the fall of Peron in 1955, his followers have been forbidden to run for public office. In this election Frondizi lifted this ban and pulled the cork out of the bottle. Peronista candidates polled about 40 per cent of the vote. They won in 10 provinces, including Buenos Aires, where a third of the population lives.

The military, who had deposed Peron in 1955, reacted at once and Frondizi is now the head, or perhaps the prisoner, of a civilian-military coalition which is cancelling the results of the election and barring Peronista candidates from taking office.

The election shows that at present in the Argentine, democracy and free elections are not workable. Within the electorate is a revolutionary mass so large and so strong that the real choice is between two kinds of dictatorships—one, in the style of Peron, the other, rule of the armed forces. There is, it would appear, no middle party big and strong enough to govern.

PERONISM is much older than Castroism. Ideological source of Peronism is not communism but fascism, more particularly the fascism of Mussolini. It is dictatorial and demagogic and spectacular, as was Mussolini's, and while it is nationalist, it is, like all extremist movements, quite capable of being fused with its extreme opposite.

This is important only because we must not jump to the easy and dangerously misleading conclusion that the revolutionary manifestation in the Argentine is caused or run by Castro. We shall be missing the point unless we realize that there is in the Argentine a highly discontented and semi-revolutionary native minority of at least 40 per cent, and that while it can be disfranchised, it is not likely soon to be liquidated.

THERE IS no way to disguise the fact that what has happened in the Argentine is a searching challenge to the Alliance for Progress and to the basis of our Latin American policy. Our hope is that there will take place in Latin America a peaceable but radical social reform, conducted according to sound financial principles and carried out without revolutionary expropriation, by democratic governments freely elected.

FAMILY BACKS MARIN SENATOR — The entire family of State Sen. John F. McCarthy came to county clerk's office today, on 9th birthday of senator's fourth son as McCarthy filed for Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. As Clerk George Gnoss stamped McCarthy's papers, senator's family lined up: (from left) Sean, 13; Paul, 11; Rob, 10; Brian, 9 today; Sharon, 6; Chris, 5; Regina, 2, Mrs. Ursula McCarthy and the senator. Two Clubs Run Ferry Boats

As of today, two Marin commute clubs are operating ferry boat commute service to San Francisco.

Harbor Princess, operated by Showboat Transportation Co., today joined the Blue Horizon, now in its third week of service, on regular commute runs from Tiburon to San Francisco.

The Princess, carrying 60 persons, left at about 7:45 and arrived at the San Francisco Ferry Building at about 8:15, according to John Barth, public relations consultant. (Rival commuters clocked the run at 7:49 departure and 8:29 arrival.) Continental breakfast was available en route.

The Blue Horizon, with 34 aboard, crossed to Fishermen's wharf in 23 minutes on its 7:17 run.

Permission to dock at the Ferry Building is being sought by the Marin Marine Commute Club, which has chartered the Blue Horizon, according to Fred G. Dupuis, president.

"We feel there is a definite advantage to two clubs," DuPuis said. "If we had a reciprocal arrangement, a commuter could catch a later boat if he missed his regular run."

The Blue Horizon averaged about 55 passengers on its two daily runs last week.

According to Barth, commute tickets are available for the Harbor Princess in blocks of 40 single tickets good for 45 days. Wives of members may accompany their husbands using a single commute ticket.

The Showboat Transportation Co. is offering free transportation this week to all those who have paid $30 for April commute tickets.

McCarthy Files His Candidacy Papers

State Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael today filed his declaration of candidacy for Republican nomination for lieutenant-governor with a verbal broadside against his rivel, San Francisco's Mayor George Christopher.

As he paid his fee and appointed deputies to circulate his nominating petitions, McCarthy assailed Christopher as a party changer and candidate who "has lost elections both as a Republican and as a Democrat."

McCarthy filed in the office of County Clerk George Gnoss, accompanied by the entire family. He stated:

"I am filing . . . with several strong feelings. First, I know as a life time Republican I can face the Republicans of this state squarely instead of having to define the kind of record possessed by my opponent: who has been first a Democrat, then a Progressive, then a Democrat and now finally a Republican."

After completing his filing, McCarthy rushed to Sacramento where the Legislature is in session. His wife, meanwhile, flew with son Chris, 5, and daughter Regina, 2, to Southern California for a week of campaigning.

McCarthy was the third person to file declaration and take out nominating petitions today. Ahead of him were two candidates, both incumbents filing for Republican Central Committee, first district: Robert G. Alderman of 228 Laurel Place, San Rafael, and Donald G. Black of 710 Monticello Road, Terra Linda.

McCarthy and all other candidates must have their petitions signed and returned to his office by 5 p.m. Friday, Gnoss said.

Supervisors Ready To Reject Transit Plea

Marin County supervisors seemed prepared today to keep their hearts stony when at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow they listen to an almost tearful letter from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

"Again," says the letter in conclusion, "we respectfully and urgently request that you reconsider your decision not to withdraw (from the district)."

The supervisors indicated today they were positively going to stand pat and stay put.

"Nobody seems to want to change," commented Chairman Walter R. Castro. "What would ever get us back in if we quit now?"

"Some of our batter is mixed into the pie they want to bake," said Supervisor Peter Behr. "They overlook that we were put on the board to represent Marin County, not San Francisco. . . . Personally I didn't go on the board to be pressured out of the rapid transit district."

Voicing hope that there will eventually be a finding that it is feasible to operate rapid transit trains across the Golden Gate Bridge, Supervisor George Ludy said that "in any case I think we're going to have another bridge which I would like to see parallel to the present one.

"There should likewise be another main highway through Marin, this one up the coast. It need not be a real freeway of course."

The district letter, signed by George M. Silliman as vice president, says that "continued participation of your county in the district can only have the effect of ruling out a November election" on a bond issue to finance a three-county transit plan.

The three-county system envisioned in a November bond election "wouldn't be rapid transit" though it would use up bond potential, said Behr.

Campfire Sparks Start Brush Fire

Sparks from a campfire left unattended on a nearby beach burned four acres of brush on the RCA Ranch on Point Reyes Lighthouse Road yesterday.

The blazing brush was discovered by a ranch employee shortly after 2 p.m., reported Harry Steinburg, Marin County Fire Department dispatcher.

County firemen with three trucks fought the blaze for more than an hour.

Identity of the person who set the campfire is unknown.

Must Trust Guards

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—City grocers quickly turned down a police department suggestion that they use watchdogs as nighttime guards. The grocerymen felt the dogs could not be trusted around the meat counter.

Brayall Plans Write-In Move In Fairfax

Russell Brayall, orignator of the referendum petition against the not yet effective night parking ban in Fairfax, has thrown his hat in the ring for Fairfax City Council.

Brayall, 39, of 201 Cascade Drive, announced today that he will run as a write-in candidate in the April 10 municipal election.

He said that he made his decision in response "to the urging of many of the residents of Fairfax."

Brayall, who has collected 450 signatures to date on a petition to put to public vote an ordinance prohibiting night parking on city streets between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. due to go into effect Oct. 1, said he will base his campaign on the parking issue.

"My entire policy will be based on an attempt to give the people what they want," said Brayall. "At the moment the city council seems determined to give the people of Fairfax everything they don't want."

Brayall, an accountant, has lived in Fairfax since he came from Connecticut almost three years ago.

Work On Trestle Will Shut Off Auburn Street Part Of Time

Auburn Street in San Rafael may be frequently closed east of Highway 101 while the street and Northwestern Pacific Railroad trestle are rebuilt, State Division of Highways spokesmen said today.

A $115,000 project to replace the trestle and improve traffic movements at the intersection of Auburn Street and Albion and Jacoby Streets began last week.

Although traffic may sometimes be routed through Irwin and Jordan Streets, Auburn Street will be open to one-way traffic at commuters' peak hours between 7 and 9 a.m. and 3 and 7 p.m.

Dean Larson, resident engineer, said the railroad is replacing the old trestle because its supports are too close together to allow adequate traffic lanes. At the same time, Auburn Street is being lowered to allow 14-foot clearance instead of the existing 11½-foot clearance. The street is also being extended to connect with the intersection of Jacoby Street and Bellam Boulevard.

Contractor for the state is O. C. Jones and Sons of Berkeley. The entire project should be completed in mid-June, said Larson.

Husband Missing, Wife Reports

Thomas Frank Dodd, 40, of Apt. 1, 1135 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, has been missing since Saturday, his wife, Vivian Ann, told San Rafael police yesterday.

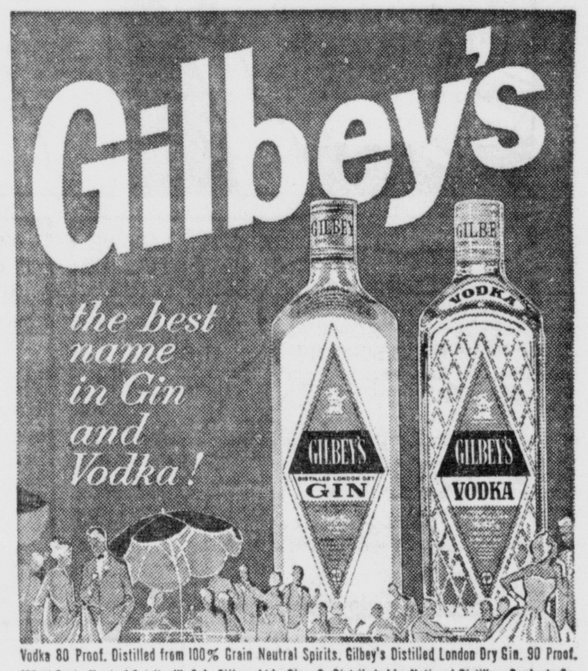

Dodd, dressed in a brown suit and green striped tie, left home at 10:30 a.m., Mrs. Dodd said. He had been despondent because of business failures, she said, and intended to see his lawyer, Berwyn A. Rice of San Rafael, about filing bankruptcy proceedings.

Police said today there have been no reports of Dodd's whereabouts.

Statement of Policy

Regarding Political Advertising

The Independent-Journal does not aggressively solicit or render copy writing service for political advertisements that are argumentative in content. Political advertisements are construed to be all assertions subject to public controversy, whether or not a public election is involved

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group.

Political advertisements must be submitted in complete and explicit form, ready for the printers, and clearly marked as to size and date of appearance. All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the regular rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two days preceding publication. As example: Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday at 4 p.m.; Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

No responsibility to show printer's proof is assumed under the above schedule.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

On the last publication day before an election no political advertisement other than a simple statement of advocacy will be printed. As example: "Vote yes on proposition three," or "Elect John Jones," together with facts as to nature and time of election and, if desired, candidate's party affiliation or occupational identity.

Nearing a public election, no advertisement introducing a new controversial subject will be accepted to run later than the fourth publication day preceding the election. If any new statement or issue should be introduced on the fourth publication day preceding the election, attacking the opposing candidate or issue involved, the newspaper may, at its discretion, make allowance under this rule for the opposing side to answer.

Necessity for the newspaper's disinterested handling of political advertisements is readily apparent. These terms and conditions are adhered to in spirit of fairness to all.

Today is Monday, March 26, the 85th day of the year with 280 to follow in 1962.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1892, the American poet Walt Whitman died at the age of 73 in Camden, N.J.

In 1918, French Gen. Ferdinand Foch was appointed commander of all allied armies in the war against Germany and her confederates.

In 1942, President Manuel Quezon and members of the Philippine war cabinet joined Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Australia after a hazardous trip from Corregidor.

In 1953, Dr. Jonas Salk announced a new vaccine capable of immunizing humans against polio.

A thought for the day: Irish author Oscar Wilde said: "What is a cynic? A man who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing."

Paret Near Death; 'It's Up To The Almighty Now'

N.Y. Orders Full Report Of Savage Title Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Benny "Kid" Paret, battered senseless in losing the world welterweight championship to Emile Griffith Saturday night, was in a coma and reported near death today.

His manager, Manuel Alfaro, said Dr. Howard Dunbar, a neurological specialist, told him that Paret's chances of recovering from brain damage were "one in 10,000."

However, Alfaro said at 1:30 a.m. Paret appeared to be slightly improved because his muscles were relaxed instead of rigid and he was able to move his eyebrows. Paret had just been given some blood transfusions.

Alfaro spoke to newsmen as he left Paret's room at Roosevelt Hospital to sleep on a couch in the hospital office for his first rest since Paret was carried out of the ring at Madison Square Garden.

Boxer Jose Torres, a friend of Paret, who spent hours at the hospital, said Paret's wife, Lucy, wept most of the time she was in her husband's room.

Torres said she frequently patted her husband's face, pleading: "Benny, Benny, listen to me."

Mrs. Paret, 23, is expecting a second child in seven months. She brought the couple's son, Benny Jr., 2, with her.

Paret, 25, who rose from a $2-a-day cutter in the sugar cane fields of Cuba to a world champion, has been in a special-care unit at the hospital.

When Paret went down in the 12th round of the nationally televised fight, oxygen was administered in the ring. Then the unconscious fighter was taken to his dressing room on a stretcher.

Less than two hours after the knockout, Paret was on an operating table at the hospital. Surgeons drilled four holes in his skull to relieve the pressure of blood clots on both sides of his brain.

Alfaro said he believed Paret could hear and feel "to some extent."

"I put my hand on his wrist and talked to him," said Alfaro, his voice shaky with emotion. "He moved his body in bed as if he were fighting in the ring. I said to him: 'We're here together, kid. We've got to pull through.'"

Gov. Rockerfeller Demands Full Report

The New York State Athletic Commission was rushing to complete a report on the fight ordered by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. In a tersely worded telegram to Gen. Melvin L. Krulewitch, chairman of the commission, the governor demanded the report be in his hands today.

Paret took a severe beating from Griffith before referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the bout in 2:09 of the 12th round. Ringsiders counted between 20 and 26 punches that connected while Griffith had Paret in a neutral corner.

As Paret, his head caught between the ropes, slid slowly to the floor, Griffith—striving to regain the championship he had lost to Paret last Sept. 30—blazed away with uppercut after uppercut.

Goldstein rushed in to stop it, and had to pull Griffith away from the bleeding, unconscious Paret. Griffith's co-manager, Gil Clancy, dashed into the ring to help Goldstein pull him away.

"I didn't realize the fight was over," said Griffith, a native of the Virgin Islands, who now resides in New York. "I thought Goldstein was trying to break up what he thought was a clinch."

Griffith, a Methodist, said he went to St. Malachy's Roman Catholic Church to pray for Paret.

Champ Griffith Breaks Down In Church

"When I went in, I broke down," Griffith related. "I usually go there before a fight because it is Clancy's church and it is right around the corner from the Garden. I pray that it is a good fight and that neither I nor my opponent gets hurt."

Griffith said Clancy had been worried about the beating he was giving for the last four or five rounds.

"Between each of these rounds, Gil would ask if a doctor had looked at Paret," he related. "Finally at the end of the 11th, Gil told me he looked tired and to try to get it over with. So I went out with that purpose in mind."

"The way it ended takes all the joy out of regaining the title," said Clancy. "I think Goldstein did a good job the way he handled the fight and stopped it.

"Paret had been superhuman earlier in absorbing punches and weather Griffith's barrages. As for the ending, I had no impression that the referee could have stopped it earlier."

Alfaro criticized Goldstein for permitting the fight to go on as long as it did.

"When Paret's head got caught between the ropes, I screamed for Goldstein to stop it," said Alfaro. "But apparently he didn't hear me."

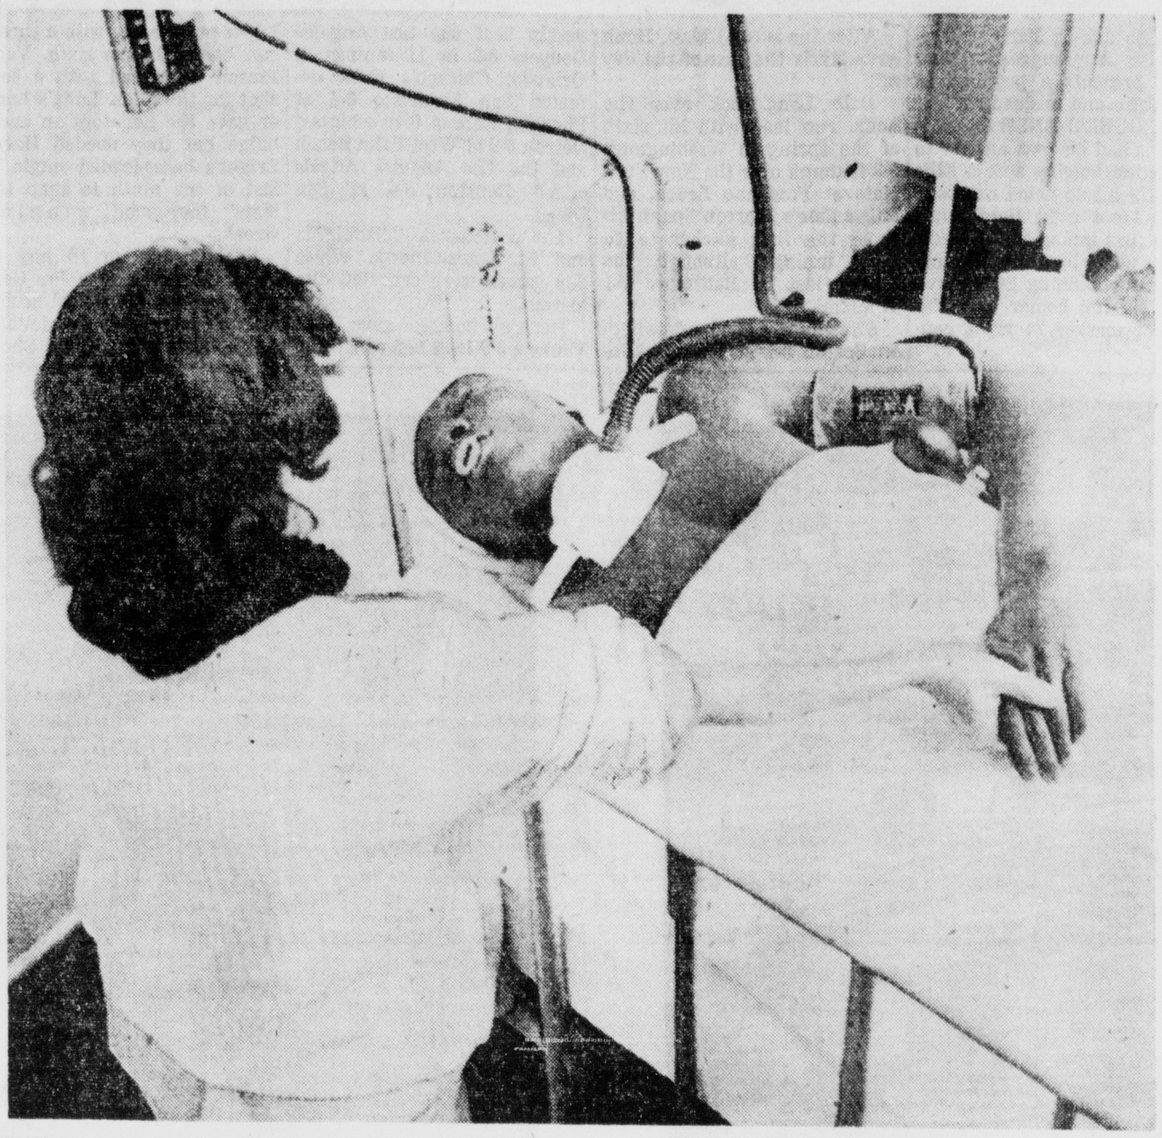

Paret Scored Knockdown In 6th Round

Paret scored the only knockdown of the fight in the sixth round when he caught Griffith with a combination. Goldstein counted eight before Griffith came out of it.

"Paret entered the ring in top physical shape," said Dr. Alexander Schiff of the New York State Athletic Commission. "Otherwise the commission never would have permitted him to fight."

Paret is one of eight children. He never had any formal education. He boxed three and one half years in Cuba, then came here. His first bout was a draw against Bobby Shell in St. Nicholas Arena, May 19, 1958. Two years later he wont the welterweight title from Don Jordan. He defended his crown successfully once before Griffith knocked him out in the 13th round of their first fight.

He won it back last year in a disputed decision.

Wife Blames Griffith, Ref

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Lucy Paret, wife of the stricken welterweight boxer, today blamed Emile Girffith and referee Ruby Goldstein for her husband's present condition.

"The referee should have stopped the fight," she said. "I blame Griffith because he knew my husband was knocked out but he kept hitting him. He was very mean. I know that Griffith wanted to win, but he shouldn't have tried to kill my husband."

The 23-year-old Mrs. Paret, who is expecting their second child in about seven months, said there was "bad blood between the two fighters." She said the reason for Griffith's savage punches was that Paret had called him a "woman" during the weigh-in.

Mrs. Paret disclosed she warned her husband not to fight any more after Paret's last Dec. 9 fight against middleweight champion Gene Fullmer. She said her husband looked "weaker" prior to last Saturday's fight with Griffith.

The fighter's wife arrived in New York from their Miami, Fla., home yesterday and stayed through the night at his bedside. She left at 7 a.m. today but returned two hours later.

Mrs. Paret had watched the fight Saturday night on television.

Juan Leaves Camp; Romantic Mission

PHOENIX (AP)—Most of Alvin Dark's San Francisco Giants got their first spring holiday today—but for pitcher Juan Marichal it was just the start of an almost week-long vacation.

With the blessing of manager Dark and club officials, Marichal left yesterday for the Dominican Republic to claim a bride. Marichal and 17-year-old Alma Rose Carvajal will return here Friday.

Only the B squad rookies, plus pitcher Billy O'Dell were to play today, facing the Chicago second unit at Mesa. The veteran O'Dell was to try for nine innings.

WILD HURLERS

With Marichal scratched because of his wedding plans, the Giants turned to three other pitchers yesterday. All had control trouble in an 8-4 loss to the Cubs.

Rookie right-hander Jerry Thomas gave up a couple of walks in his four innings, but suffered most from a grand-slam homer off the bat of Billy Williams.

Ron Herbel gave up only three hits in his two innings, but walked three more. Stu Miller finished up with a three-inning shutout, but issued four free tickets.

The Giants weren't doing badly until Williams showed why he was National League rookie of the year in 1961. Oddly, his two 1961 grand-slammers were both against San Francisco.

Four double plays knocked the stuffing out of the Giants' most promising rallies. The last threat died in the eighth with two on and none out when Chuck Hiller bounced into his second twin-killing of the day.

Orlando Cepeda had made it 8-4 with a wrong-field homer off the fists, but the rally produced nothing more.

The Giants, 8-8 in the Cactus League, have a distasteful 1-3 record this spring against usually-lowly Chicago.

Navy Sub Graduate

Navy fire control technician Kenneth W. Goldman, son of Mrs. Belle Scibek of 633 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, was recently graduated from the Naval Submarine School at Groton, Conn.

Tacoma Giants Shutout By Cleveland 'Bs'

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI)—The Tacoma Giants of the Pacific Coast League connected with only two harmless singles yesterday as they were defeated, 6-0, by the "B" squad of the Cleveland Indians.

Veteran righthander Jim Perry went eight innings for the American League Club. Dusty Rhodes and Damasco Blanco got the singles for Tacoma.

GOLDSTEIN'S STORY

Referee Strikes Back At Critics

NEW YORK, Marchr 26 (UPI)—Referee Ruby Goldstein, the third man in the ring during the Emile Griffith-Benny (Kid) Paret welterweight title bout, struck back today at critics who accused him of not stopping the bout earlier.

The scheduled 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden Satrday night ended at 2:09 of the 12th round with Griffith hammering a series of rights to Paret's head while the 25-year-old Cuban was helplessly suspended on the ropes in a neutral corner.

FAST AND FURIOUS

"Those blows were coming fast and furious," said Goldstein, a veteran of 20 years experience on the New York State Athletic Commission staff. "But I thought I was using good judgment when I let it go on."

Manuel Alfaro, Paret's manager, said he was screaming "to stop it" from his corner but muttered, "Goldstein let him go on hitting Paret."

"The irony is that I'm sometimes accused of stopping fights too fast," said Goldstein. "I heard that criticism in fights between Ray Robinson and Randy Turpin, Floyd Patterson and Hurricane Jackson and Jorge Fernandez and Cecil Short. I stopped the Robinson-Turpin fight with eight seconds left in the 10th round and everybody said I was wrong.

"It is a terrible thing to have happen and I certainly feel sorry for the boy," added Goldstein. "But I still say my judgment was all right. Boxing is that kind of a game—a tough game in which these tragedies sometimes occur. I'd like to sit down with these critics because I think I could make them see my point of view.

The accidental blow was struck by Gary Wooten, 19, one of his pupils.

Ref. Not Only To Blame; Why Didn't Paret's Manager Throw In Towel?

CONNOLLY

In reviewing the sad outcome of the Benny "Kid" Paret-Emile Griffith welterweight fight last Saturday night I am reminded of Abe Roth, a distinguished boxing referee for many years.

"A person may see a fight for the first time in his life," Roth once said, "but he immediately forms a definite opinion. He's a referee in his own mind."

So today we have millions of referees among the TV spectators who watched Griffith regain his world title.

Some will blame referee Ruby Goldstein for not stepping in and stopping the fight as they once blamed the late Toby Irwin for allowing Max Baer to club Frankie Campbell to death some years ago.

But in all the furore, the ranting and raving and criticism, the self appointed referees forget one thing. Why didn't the manager of Paret, as is his privilege, throw in the towel which is the referee's signal to stop the fight immediately?

WHEN FRANKIE Campbell was killed the towel wasn't thrown in. And, that in itself, absolves the referee of the actual blame for not stopping the fight sooner.

Referees such as Ruby Goldstein have to forget previous fights. They judge a fighter, not on how good he was in his last fight, but how good is he doing NOW. Reputations shouldn't influence a referee's decision.

Is it fair for a referee to help out one man or save another?

ABE ROTH, in explaning such tactics on the part of a referee, recited an incident which happened when he was officiating in an exhibition Jack Dempsey was giving.

"Jack would clout his opponent insensible, then hold him up until he recovered. Then he would push him away," explained Roth, "and clout him again. I begged Dempsey to have a heart but he never stopped. I guess he couldn't help it. He was a killer in the ring."

REFEREES HAVE seldom marred championship fights by outlandish decisions Dave Barry, who refereed the Dempsey-Tunney fight, reports have said, was emotionally upset until his death over the charges that he gave Tunney a "long count."

Arthur Donovan, who cost Henry Armstrong his lightweight title by calling fouls against him, insisted Armstrong, usually a clean boxer, was off color this particular night against Lou Ambers.

Joe Waterman, refereeing in Manila, gave a fighter a long count once believing he was stalling only to find out at the end of the long count the fighter was dead.

LITTLE LEAGUE IS BOOMING IN MARINWOOD

An enrollment of 175 boys—an increase of 20 per cent—has necessitated the formation of two additional teams in the Marinwood Little League this year, announced President Norman R. Grose today.

The two new teams will be placed in the minor division, bringing that league to six clubs. The major division, Grose said, will remain with five teams, but plans already are being made for six in 1963.

Grose said a general meeting will be held Thursday, 8 p.m. at Mary E. Silveira School to discuss the present season and future growth of the Marinwood League. The public is invited to attend.

A three-way tie for runner-up honors at 56 was between the following teams: Ben Coit-Bill Anderson-Hugh Darling-Stan Powell, Ed Campion-Porter Forcade-Bob Nelson-Al Huber Sr. and Lloyd Tweedt-Ernie Fairey-Vic Regalia-Cy Donaldson.

In Saturday's best ball twosome play at the Meadow Club Ed Lindner and Ed Mahoney teamed up for a first place card of 60 in Class A, followed by Sam Dutart-George Kerrigan at 61 and Stu Harrison-Chuck Cooney at 62.

Maris, 'Cleared' By Manager, Uncorks Two Home Runs

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Home run king Roger Maris, bolstered by the backing of Manager Ralph Houk in the controversy provoked by his off-the-field blasts, has fired his first one-the-field salvo.

Stung by the criticism of his conduct and buoyed by Houk's assertion that "Rog is a team ball player who gives us 100 per cent at all times," Maris responded with two homers yesterday that powered the New York Yankees to a 6-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

The two-shots —doubling his output for the entire 1961 exhibition season when he hammered 61 during the regular campaign — came after Houk felt compelled to step into the dispute over Maris' deportment, and deny reports of dissension among the world champions.

Said Houk: "The fans of New York, an deverywhere else, are entitled to know our position. There isn't any dissention on this club due to Maris or anyone else. Any suggestion that Maris presents a problem to us is false and misleading."

ROGER'S ANSWER

Maris had his own answer to his critics, tagging a Sam Ellis pitch for a solo home run over the 342-foot right field fence in the first inning at the Reds' Tampa home base, then cracking a fourth-inning Ellis serve for a one-run homer over the 377-foot marker in right center.

After the second blast, Houk gave Maris the rest of the day off.

Dale Long took over the home run lead with his sixth of the spring in Washington's 9-8 triumph over the New York Mets at Pompano Beach, and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn became the first pitcher to go nine innings although the Braves lost to Baltimore 7-1 at Miami.

Elsewhere, Cleveland walloped Boston 8-1 at Tuscon, Minnesota beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 in 11 innings at Orlando, Chicago's Cubs defeated San Francisco 8-4 at Phoenix, Kansas City whipped Detroit 6-2 at West Palm Beach and the Los Angeles Angels edged Houston 5-4 at San Diego.

The Pittsburgh-Philadelphia and St. Louis-Chicago White Sox games were canceled due to rain.

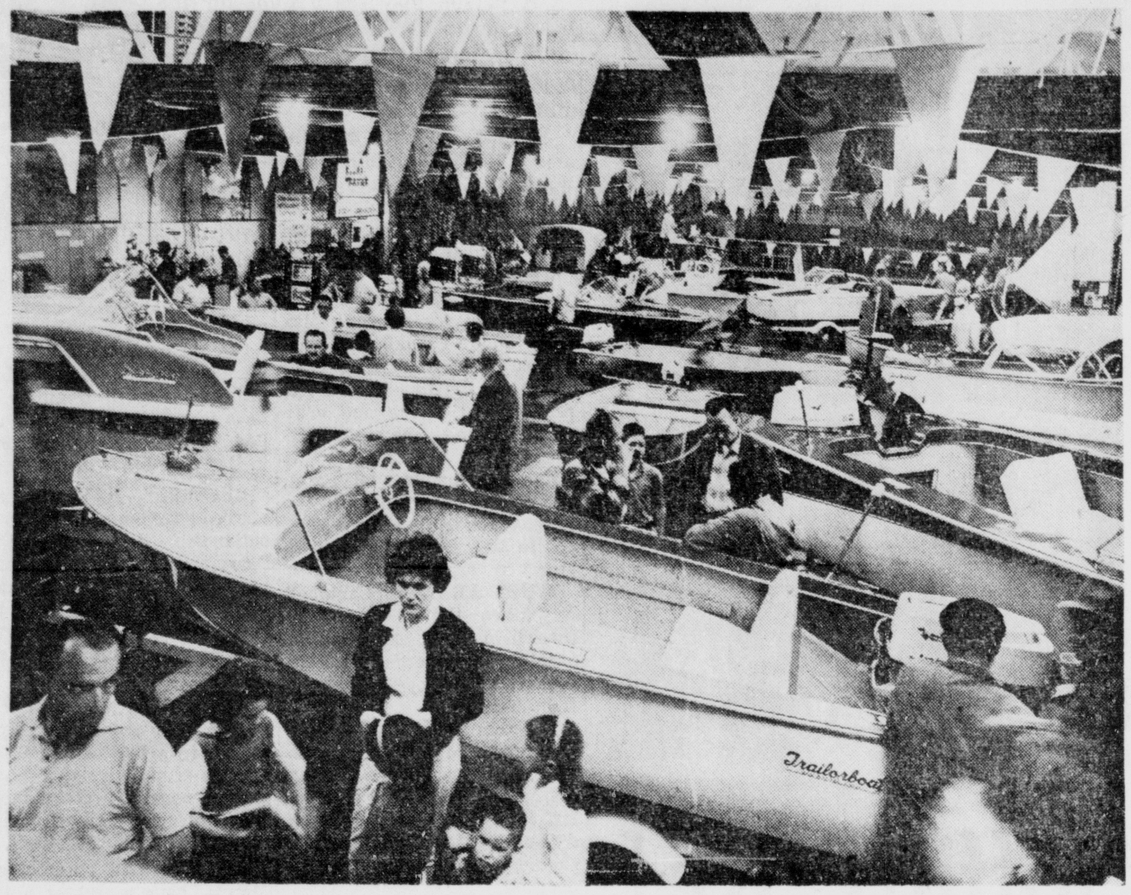

Maris's homer gave the Yanks a 3-0 lead before Hector Lopez put it away with a three-run homer in the sixth. Vada Pinson countered with a solo shot for the Reds. Long's homer gave the Senators an early bulge but they needed Harry Bright's bases-loaded single in last of the ninth to snap the Mets' four-game winning streak.

Spahn gave up 10 hits in going the route, with Jim Gentile pacing the Orioles' attack with a two-run homer, double, single and walk. Billy Short hurled five innings of no-hit ball for Baltimore.

The Indians climbed over the Red Sox on Chuck Essegian's five RBI performance produced by a three-run homer, triple and single.

A leadoff homer by Sandy Valdespino in the 11th beat the Dodgers for the Twins, who had opened up the scoring on Harmon Killebrew's round tripper. Minnesota's Georges Maranda allowed no hits in his six-inning stint. A grand slam homer by Billy Williams in the fourth inning gave the Cubs an edge they never lost against the Giants.

The A's pounded Tigers' starter Don Mossi for four runs in the second inning and made the most of nine hits and four Detroit errors for an easy triumph. The Angels beat the Colts when Eddie Yost scored from third with the deciding run in the seventh on a wild throw by third baseman Bob Aspromonte.

DUCK POND — Spectators view one of the many displays at the Sports and Boat Show in San Rafael this past weekend. This Dolphin of Marin's exhibit is one of their swimming pools, plus ducks and floating ash trays to put it in.

HERE'S HOW—Art Burr, Northwoods Bowmen's Club instructor, shows Lee Peterson, 7, of San Rafael, how to string and aim an arrow at the club's archery booth in the Sports and Boat Show yesterday. The club also held an archery tournament in Santa Venetia in connection with the show, results of which will be published in tomorrow's Independent-Journal.

WINNER—Carolyn Ball of San Francisco is given her trophy as Miss Rod and Gun of 1962 by Marin Rod and Gun Club president Steve Lato. John Powers Models participated in the club sponsored contest.

STRUGGLE — It only took George Dielissen, of the Pacific Rod and Gun Club, 42.2 seconds to land human "fish" Mark Warren of Fairfax in the Human Fish Derby at the Sports and Boat Show yesterday. The derby was one of the most popular events of the show, and was new to it this year.

Sports Show Big Success

Some 35,000 persons attended the Marin County Sport and Boat Show in San Rafael this past weekend, Paul Ware, Marin Rod and Gun Club secretary, reported today.

Ware, whose organization sponsors the annual event, said: "It was one of the best shows we have ever had—everybody seemed pleased. We had as many exhibitors as space would permit and much cooperation from everybody."

This year's show had several additions, including a 14-mile parade Saturday morning and a human fish derby. Also popular was an archery tournament in Santa Venetia Saturday and skin diving demonstration and films by the Marin Skin Diving club.

Water ballets by the Ann Curtis Cuneo Swim Club of Marin were held daily at the show which opened Friday and closed last evening. Popular with fishermen this year were fly and bait casting demonstrations by Jules P. Cuenin. Other features were the weightlifting demnostrations, sponsored by the Mar Vel Athletic Club, and a John Robert Powers fashion show.

Powers model Carolyn Ball was chosen Miss Rod and Gun of 1962, at the show.

Children were entertained by the lectures and dances of Chief Eaglewing and his son, Red Turtle, both Indians of a Klamath River tribe, Oregon. Also, to the children's delight were many stuffed wild animals on display by the Marin Junior Museum and others. Youngsters also had opportunity for free archery lessons from Northwoods Bowmen.

Exhibits for fishermen, hunters, boaters and other outdoorsmen were indoors at the Bermuda Palms Hotel, the show's site. Outdoors were the latest in camping trailers and truck campers as well as an "instant" fireplace exhibit.

Tars Divide Double Header

Coach Ed Grimm's College of Marin Tars baseball team goes against Concordia College Wednesday afternoon at Oakland with Gordon McCloskey scheduled for the Tar mound chores.

The Mariners split a doubleheader last Saturday with Siskyous College at Kentfield. The Tars dropped the first game 11-7, and won the other 4-1.

In that opening contest the northmen bombarded Marin in the first two innings by stacking up five runs. In nine the the Tar opponents got 11 hits, three of which were doubles and a triple. The Tars got nine hits and made two errors.

For the Tars, Steve Anderson cracked a double and both Jerry Ard and Lynn Livie got two hits for five times at the plate. Tar hurlers were Ron Cole who went the first two frames, and Bill Finn who completed the contest.

Russ Honeyman led the Tars in rebounding in the second game. He gave up only three hits to Siskyous, having held them to none until the fifth inning. Ron Cole was the Tars' big hitter with a double and triple for three RBI's.

Coach Grimm lauded Tar third sacker Ernie Bray for skillful infield play Saturday. In the second game the Tars committed no errors. Last year, Bray had only one error in 156 chances.

Terra Linda, coached by Don Lucas, will field the seventh team in the MCAL. It will be the school's first participation as a varsity team in a major sport in the league. The Trojans open with their first contest Friday against San Rafael High at Albert Field in San Rafael. All the other opening games are tomorrow, and all this week's league conflicts begin at 4 p.m.

In games tomorrow, defending MCAL co-champion Tamalpais will host Novato, co-champion San Rafael will vie at Marin Catholic, In addition to the Terra Linda-Bulldog game Friday, Marin Catholic hosts Tam, Redwood hosts Novato and Drake will host Petaluma in a non-league game at 4 p.m.

1961 RECORDS

Last year San Rafael and Tam tied with 8-2 records for the baseball crown. Drake was in third place with a 6-3 record, Marin Catholic fourth, 4-5, and Novato and Redwood tied for the cellar with 1-7 counts.

The best records so far this season have been tallied by Tam and Redwood, neither of which have lost to out-of-county teams or any others. Both outfits have stacked up some neat early tabulations on extra hitting especially Al Endriss' Giants have had almost as many homers as games.

Despite the little practice coach Ray Bell has been able to put his Tam troops through because of the rain and Tam's extra damp field, the Indians have handed him victories on good hitting and pitching.

"I think we have the makings of a real solid ball club for this year—and next," said Bell. Although Bell lost many of his experienced players last June, returning will be catcher Steve Long, outfielder and pitcher Dave Perlis, and top hurler Fred Mack, a fine nucleus.

Perlis should be one of the leading batters in the league. He has had two years varsity experience and last year was All-MCAL League. Long, a junior, was the next best receiver in the league last year and hits well.

Bell undoubtedly has one of the league's best two pitchers —Fred Mack. The other top hurler is San Rafael's Jack Sovereign.

NEEDS A REST

Sovereign will be helping to keep San Rafael chasing the crown again this year. Coach Jack Sims of the Bulldogs has not used him on the mound yet this season, however. Sovereign has been playing first string in major sports without a break since last summer.

"He needs a rest," says Sims. So the Bulldog mentor has put Sovereign in the outfield for awhile, and the lanky athlete has done well on the grass and at the plate, and later much will be expected from him off this year's mound. Last year he pitched MCAL's first no-hitter. The second in history was also pitched last year, by Dave LeBeck of Drake.

Coach Harry Moore's Marin Catholic Wildcats have had a tough grapple with the weather this season to allow them any insight as to how they may do in the league. They had five straight games canceled because of rain, and late last week they weren't hitting so well.

NO PREDICTIONS

Even coach Moore won't talk about the future generally: "No predictions for Marin Catholic. I've put my neck out too far, too many times."

The Catholics' biggest loss and need is in the pitching department, feels Moore. Both his hurlers last year, James Finn and Jerry DeRosa, are throwing for colleges. And the other experienced pitcher, Ted Westerhold, transferred to Drake.

"Final standings will depend on the development of Frank Burch, sophomore Dave Beswick and junior John Forsythe," says Moore.

Moore feels he has an asset in "senior spirit and endurance which will be aided by a sound and experienced infield."

His returning first stringers are Burch, Ken Bowerman, Joe Hebel, John Odetto, Hank Ryan, Jerry Smith, Frank Ubhaus and Bob Williams.

The Sir Francis Drake squad hasn't been exactly on a winning streak this early season for coach Verle Sorgen, but they have showed some clutch playing in crucial innings, some skillful infield work, especially by Ron Sater, and they have a good worker in pitcher Gary Goodall, a varsity vet.

PITCHER-HITTER

Bill Kline's Novato Hornets have a leader and a workhorse in pitcher Larry Hale who is a steady mound man and a timely hitter. Also strong at the plate and in the infield for the Hornets will be the school's champion quarterback, Don Scribner, and Butch Overmyre. Scribner held down shortstop last year and Overmyre the first bag.

Rookie Terra Linda is an unknown quality that will get its first taste of varsity league warfare Friday against San Rafael.

Bearcats' Paul Hogue Is Nation's Basketball Prince

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —Paul Hogue, who throughout his college career at Cincinnati walked in the footsteps of Oscar Robertson but remained hidden in the shadow of Jerry Lucas, reigned today as the nation's crown prince of basketball.

Behind the powerful play of Hogue, a 6-foot-9, 240-pound giant from Knoxville, Tenn., Cincinnati bowled over top-ranked Ohio State 71-59 Saturday night to win its second straight National Collegiate basketball championship.

The victory gave the Bearcats their second straight NCAA title and their second consecutive triumph over arch-rival Ohio State in the finals of the annual classic. Last year Cincinnati edged the Buckeyes 70-65 in overtime.

Hogue, overlooked when All-America honors were passed out, scored 22 points, hauled down 19 rebounds and played rings around Lucas, Ohio State's three-time All-America. Lucas, playing with an injured left knee, was held by Hogue to only 11 points, far below his seasonal average.

Asked if he was out to prove to the world his great ability, Hogue replied: "I wasn't out to prove anything.

NO FLUKE

"We just wanted to show the folks that our victory last year wasn't a fluke."

Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's great All-America now playing professional basketball, preceded Hogue at the center spot for the Bearcats. When Hogue made his debut as a sophomore his lack of coordination and his awkwardness was unbelievable.

But midway through his junior year, Hogue had smoothed off the edges and led Cincinnati to the 1961 NCAA title. He closed out his collegiate career as one of the most sought after prospects in the nation.

Bearcat Coach Ed Jucker was asked if he thought Hogue's tournament performance had anything to do with his being the forgotten man in Ohio basketball circles.

"I'm sure this had much to do with Hogue's great performance. I know Paul feels deeply about this. He played a great tournament and did a great job on Lucas."

Hogue received 75 of a possible 78 votes to win the Most Valuable Player award in the tournament. He scored 36 points against UCLA in the semi-finals and almost single handedly whipped the Bruins.

Cincinnati kept the pressure on the Buckeyes, who were unable to run their usual fast break against the speedy Bearcats, and soon melted Ohio State's attack. Cincinnati jumped to a 37-29 halftime edge and the Bucks could never make up the ground.

It was evident Lucas' knee bothered him. He couldn't rebound, defend or shoot like he usually does. He hit only five of 16 shots against the Bearcats. His over-all shooting average is nearly 63 per cent.

Jucker had nothing but praise for his starting unit of Hogue, Tommy Thacker, Ron Bonham, George Wilson and Tony Yates.

"They're five All Americas," he said.

Terra Linda's Trojan Boosters Meeting April 4

The Trojan Boosters Assn. will hold an open meeting April 4 to welcome parents of incoming Terra Linda High School freshmen to its ranks.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the cafeteria or teachers room, said president William E. Dreusike of 281 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood. The group, consisting of parents of students seeking to help the programs of the athletic and music departments, recently was incorporated as a non-profit corporation.

Besides Dreusike, directors are John G. Mammes of 221 El Prado Avenue, Los Ranchitos, and Don J. Wiffin of 131 Kent Avenue, Kentfield.

A basketball game recently staged by the group raised funds for a portable bleachers for the athletic department and a tape recorder for the music department.

Members of the two departments will explain their programs at the April 4 meeting, Dreusike said.

A MARIN TRACK STAR

On The Run 4 Hours A Day!

By PAUL MILLER

Men like Bill Ranney of Fairfax make up for a lot of Americans.

They do because many Americans spend too much of every day riding, sitting or lying; Ranney spends four to six hours of his day running.

His efforts have not only brought him personal satisfaction, good health, and the respect of friends and strangers, but have given him first place honors in county, national and international track meets.

His biggest victory to date was his 15:09. win in the 5,000 meter race at the annual indoor invational track meet at University of Oregon last month. The 28-year-old member of the Marin Athletic Club has also run in the Mill Valley dipsea race 14 times since he was 12, and has been among the top 10 finishers four times.

While he was in the Army he won the 2,000 meter run in the Far East Command and the same distance contest in the All-Service meet in Japan.

COAST TITLE

For several years, Ranney has placed high in AAU meets' distance events. He has also won the Pacific Coast pentathlon championship, and was third nationally two years ago in the 25 kilometer run, to mention a few of his honors.

In 1956, Ranney made the finals in the tryouts for the United States Olympic team.

This year Ranney is on the rebound after a year's layoff from competition. His Oregon invitational gold medal was his first splash after the Hiatus. Ranney's next big target — he plans to participate in 15 to 17 races this year — is the San Francisco Cross City run, scheduled next month.

"I feel better than I ever have," says Ranney of his running.

TRAINING GRIND

One would have to feel good indeed to do what he does in training alone. He works out six days a week about six hours a day; some of the time is used for calesthenics, the remainder in running. Ranney cracks out of the pad, 1 Barker Court in Fairfax, at daybreak three days a week and runs in the Fairfax hills.

"I'm not much of a hill runner," he says modestly.

Those three days and three others, after putting in an eight-hour work day, Ranney trains at the San Rafael High School field with some other runners from the Marin Athletic Club and sometimes with some of the prep thin clads. If the track is too wet, Ranney fails to use it an an excuse to go home and sit. Rather he and his colleagues run in the hills above the high school.

Ranney is a handsome athlete. Off the track he dresses like an organization man, looks a lot healthier than most, and works for the National Merchandising Corp. of California. He has attended both San Mateo College and Stanford University.

RUNNING PHILOSOPHY

He has a philosophy on distance running similar to coach Arthur Lydiard of New Zealand, who trained Peter Snell and Murray Halberg to their world records.

Lydiard is reported in a recent issue of Sports Illustrated as attempting to "develop my runners until they are in a tireless state. In practice, this means I am trying to give them sufficient stamina to maintain their natural speed over whatever distance they are running." He asserts it is an American misconception that he is trying to push back pain barriers or drive beyond the point of collapse.

Ranney too believes in the importance of the type of training that will give him a natural speed in distance running.

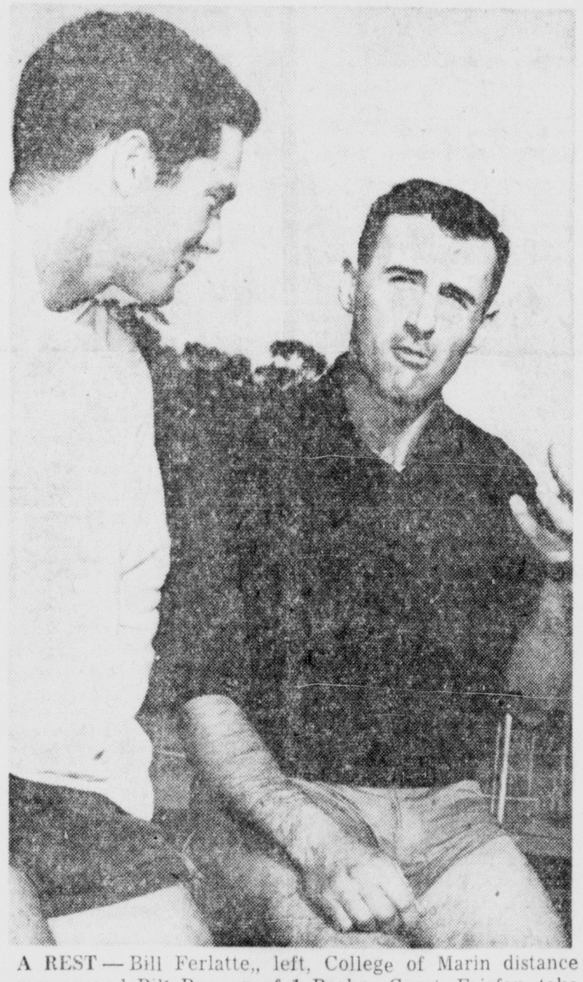

PUSHES SELF

He pushes himself unmercifully in training, knowing that "a person's body will physically collapse before he suffers any physical damage." Ranney believes that "Until I collapse nothing will seriously happen, and this is what you tell yourself while you work out."

Ranney says he thinks of many things disconnected with running, however, when he trains, but "in meets, 90 per cent of my thoughts are in planning the race while I run, and in outdoing my competitor."

Ranney is a spokesman for his sport. "We (United States) are moving up in distance running and will be continuing to do so because we are beginning to train harder and our desire is keener because in the past we have been put down so much in international distance meets."

For Americans to be in better physical shape and for distance runners to be the best, "artificial hardships, so to speak, must be created," says Ranney, who is a practicing preacher.

A REST — Bill Ferlatte,, left, College of Marin distance runner and Bill Ranney of 1 Barker Court, Fairfax, take a break during workout at San Rafael High's field. Ranney last month won the 5,000 meter run in the national indoor invitational track meet at the University of Oregon. Both are members of the Marin Athletic Club.

SHORT TRACK STEALS NEW TRACK RECORD

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Occidental sprint star Steve Haas has come within five feet, 9¼ inches of equalling the world record for the 220-yard dash.

H blazed around the 220-on-a-curve Saturday at a dual meet here in the time of 20.5, which would be equal to the record set in 1960 by Peter Radford at Wolverhampton, England.

But officials measured the track after the clocking and found it short. It was the second time Haas, 20, suffered such a setback.

Oregon Spikers Rip San Jose, Cal.; Can Ducks Knock Off Mighty USC?

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

San Jose, thwarted in its bid to become the nation's No. 1 or 2 dual meet track team, tries to salvage northern California supremacy Saturday in a meet with potent Stanford and Big 8 indoor champion Kansas.

The Spartans, hit hard in the sprints and distances, bowed to Oregon Saturday in a triangular meet which also included Cal.

Oregon scored 81 points to 62⅓ for San Jose and 18⅔ for Cal.

The Ducks prevailed over San Jose in dual scoring 75-56, and looked strong enough to perhaps beat perennial No. 1 power USC in April.

Oregon speedster Harry Jerome, co-world holder-holder at 100 meters, toppled San Jose's potent duo of Jimmy Omagbemi and Dennis Johnson in a 9.5 100, then ran away from Omagbemi in a 21.1 220.

Dyrol Burleson (1:48.2), Archie San Romani Jr. (4:03.8) and Keith Forman (9:01.7) routed the Spartans in the 880, mile and two mile with outstanding early-season clockings.

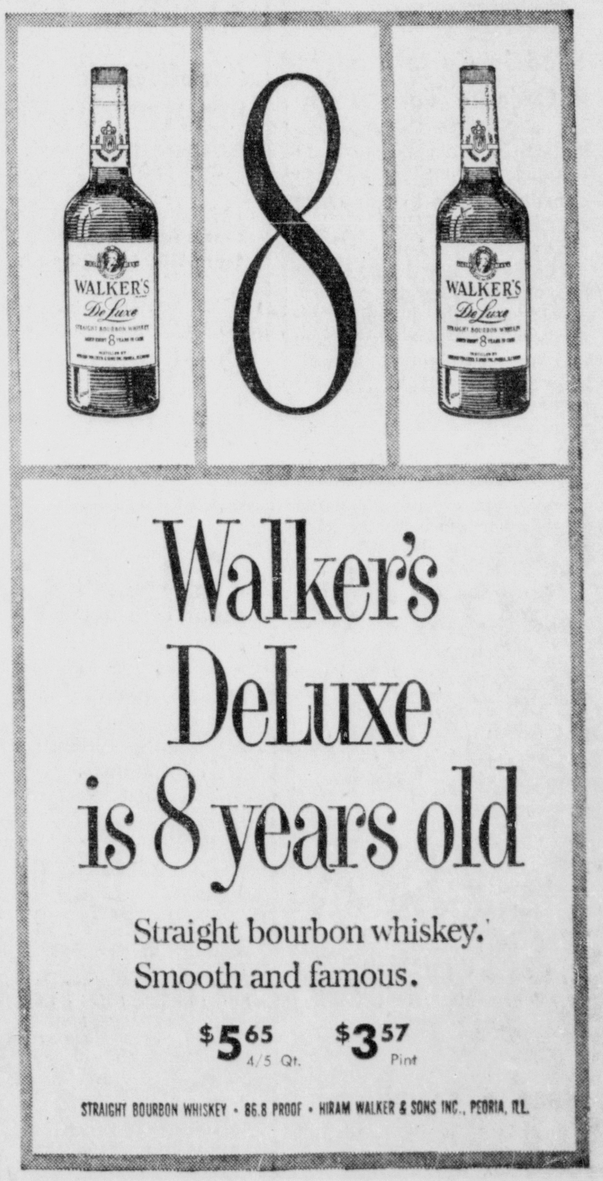

San Jose's bright spots were Dan Studney, a double winner at 164 feet 10½ inches in the discuss and 236-2 in the javelin, and Bruck McCullough, upsetter in a :47.4 quarter mile.

California, woefully thin for a dual meet, showed a bit of big meet potential when Dave Maggard won the shot at 58 feet 4 inches and junior college transfer Gene Johnson high jumped 6-10. Each was a new school record.

Stanford warmed up for its big triangular by routing Fresno State and Sacramento 111 2/5 to 37 9/10 to 11 7/10.

Two school records fell when junior giant Dave Weill uncorked a 188-6½ discus throw and Phil White pole vaulted 14-9 in his first meet of the year.

Another first-meeter, Rich Klier, turned in a 1:51.7 half-mile that showed he is recovering from a foot injury.

Marin Homes Hit By Vandalism

Terra Linda Fire Department officials and sheriff's deputies today planned to question several children and their parents regarding a wave of fires and acts of vandalism over the weekend.

On Friday afternoon, Mrs. George L. Reimer of 660 Woodbine Drive, Terra Linda, reported someone had slashed tires on two bicycles in her garage, cut the television antenna, slashed two garden hoses and a screen. Later the same day, two fires were reported in the garage of Frederick D. Mulhaupt of 672 Woodbine.

On Saturday, a fire was reported in a small outbuilding behind the Reimer home. While Deputy Sheriff William T. Johansen was talking to Mrs. Reimer about the blaze, another started in a doll house at the side of the Reimer home.

Yesterday at 2 p.m., Mrs. Reimer called the fire department to report a fire in the garage of Marjorie J. Patterson of 666 Woodbine who was away for the weekend. Mrs. Reimer said she discovered the blaze when looking for her children in the neighborhood.

All the fires were small and started with piles of magazines and papers, Terra Linda Fire Chief Richard Flaherty said. All were put out without damage, he said.

In Kentfield, on Saturday, two boys, 13 and 14 years of age, admitted starting two fires on front porches of homes with lighter fluid. One of the fires was discovered by Kay J. Ward of 122 Woodland Drive, who told sheriff's deputies she had answered her doorbell to find the small blaze on her front porch. The boys were caught after setting another fire nearby "because they had nothing else to do."

Elsewhere in Marin, sheriff's deputies and police were busy answering calls of minor vandalism.

Dr. Harold N. Jolley of 19 Glen Drive, Mill Valley, told police someone drove a car through his garden, causing damage estimated at $900.

James L. Ridgeway of 354 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo, reported someone had slashed the top of his 1957 Cadillac sedan parked at the curb in front of his home.

Jane Overstreet of 2149 Elderberry Avenue, Marinwood, reported two 7-year-old boys shooting B-B guns at her dog through the front fence. Deputies confiscated the guns after reprimanding the children.

Mrs. Kennedy's DAR Remark Denied

KHYBER PASS, Pakistan (UPI) —A spokesman for Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy has denied a Pakistan newspaper report that she had called the Daughters of the American Revolution a group of "old and lonely women."

The Pakistan Times said Mrs. Kennedy was asked this question by one of its women reporters:

"Mrs. Kennedy, since you supported a UNICEF greeting card designer, Francois, who was condemned by the Daughters of the American Revolution, are you doing anything else to forward the cause of liberalism and counteract reactionary forces?"

It said she replied: "Well, the best way to do it is to ignore such influences, and in any case, it is mostly confined to old and lonely women and their organizations."

White House assistant press secretary Jay Gildner said the question "did not include the name of any specific organization, nor did Mrs. Kennedy make any comment about their membership."

Hub Council To Discuss Two Substandard Lots

San Anselmo City Councilmen will continue discussions tomorrow night on what to do about two homes which are being built on substandard lots along Scenic Avenue in the Bush Tract.

The council meeting is set for 8 p.m. in the city hall.

City fathers last week ordered a stop-work on the two homes, being built by Jay Simon of Corte Madera at 401 and 409 Scenic. A delegation of neighbors protested the construction on grounds that the substandard lots will lead to "slum" homes.

The city attorney and the city administrator were instructed to bring in a report tomorrow night.

Other items on the agenda for tomorrow night include an offstreet parking plan for an apartment at 67 Ross Avenue, pedestrian right of way on storm sewer needs.

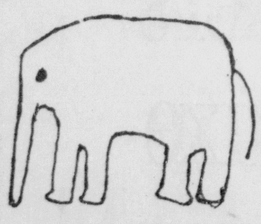

The councilmen also hope to wind up its reading of the new zoning ordinance.

Shed In Corte Madera Is Ordered Torn Down

The Corte Madera Board of Adjustments Wednesday night ordered Ralph E. Bliss of 534 Tamalpais Drive to tear down a small storage shed he had built next to his house.

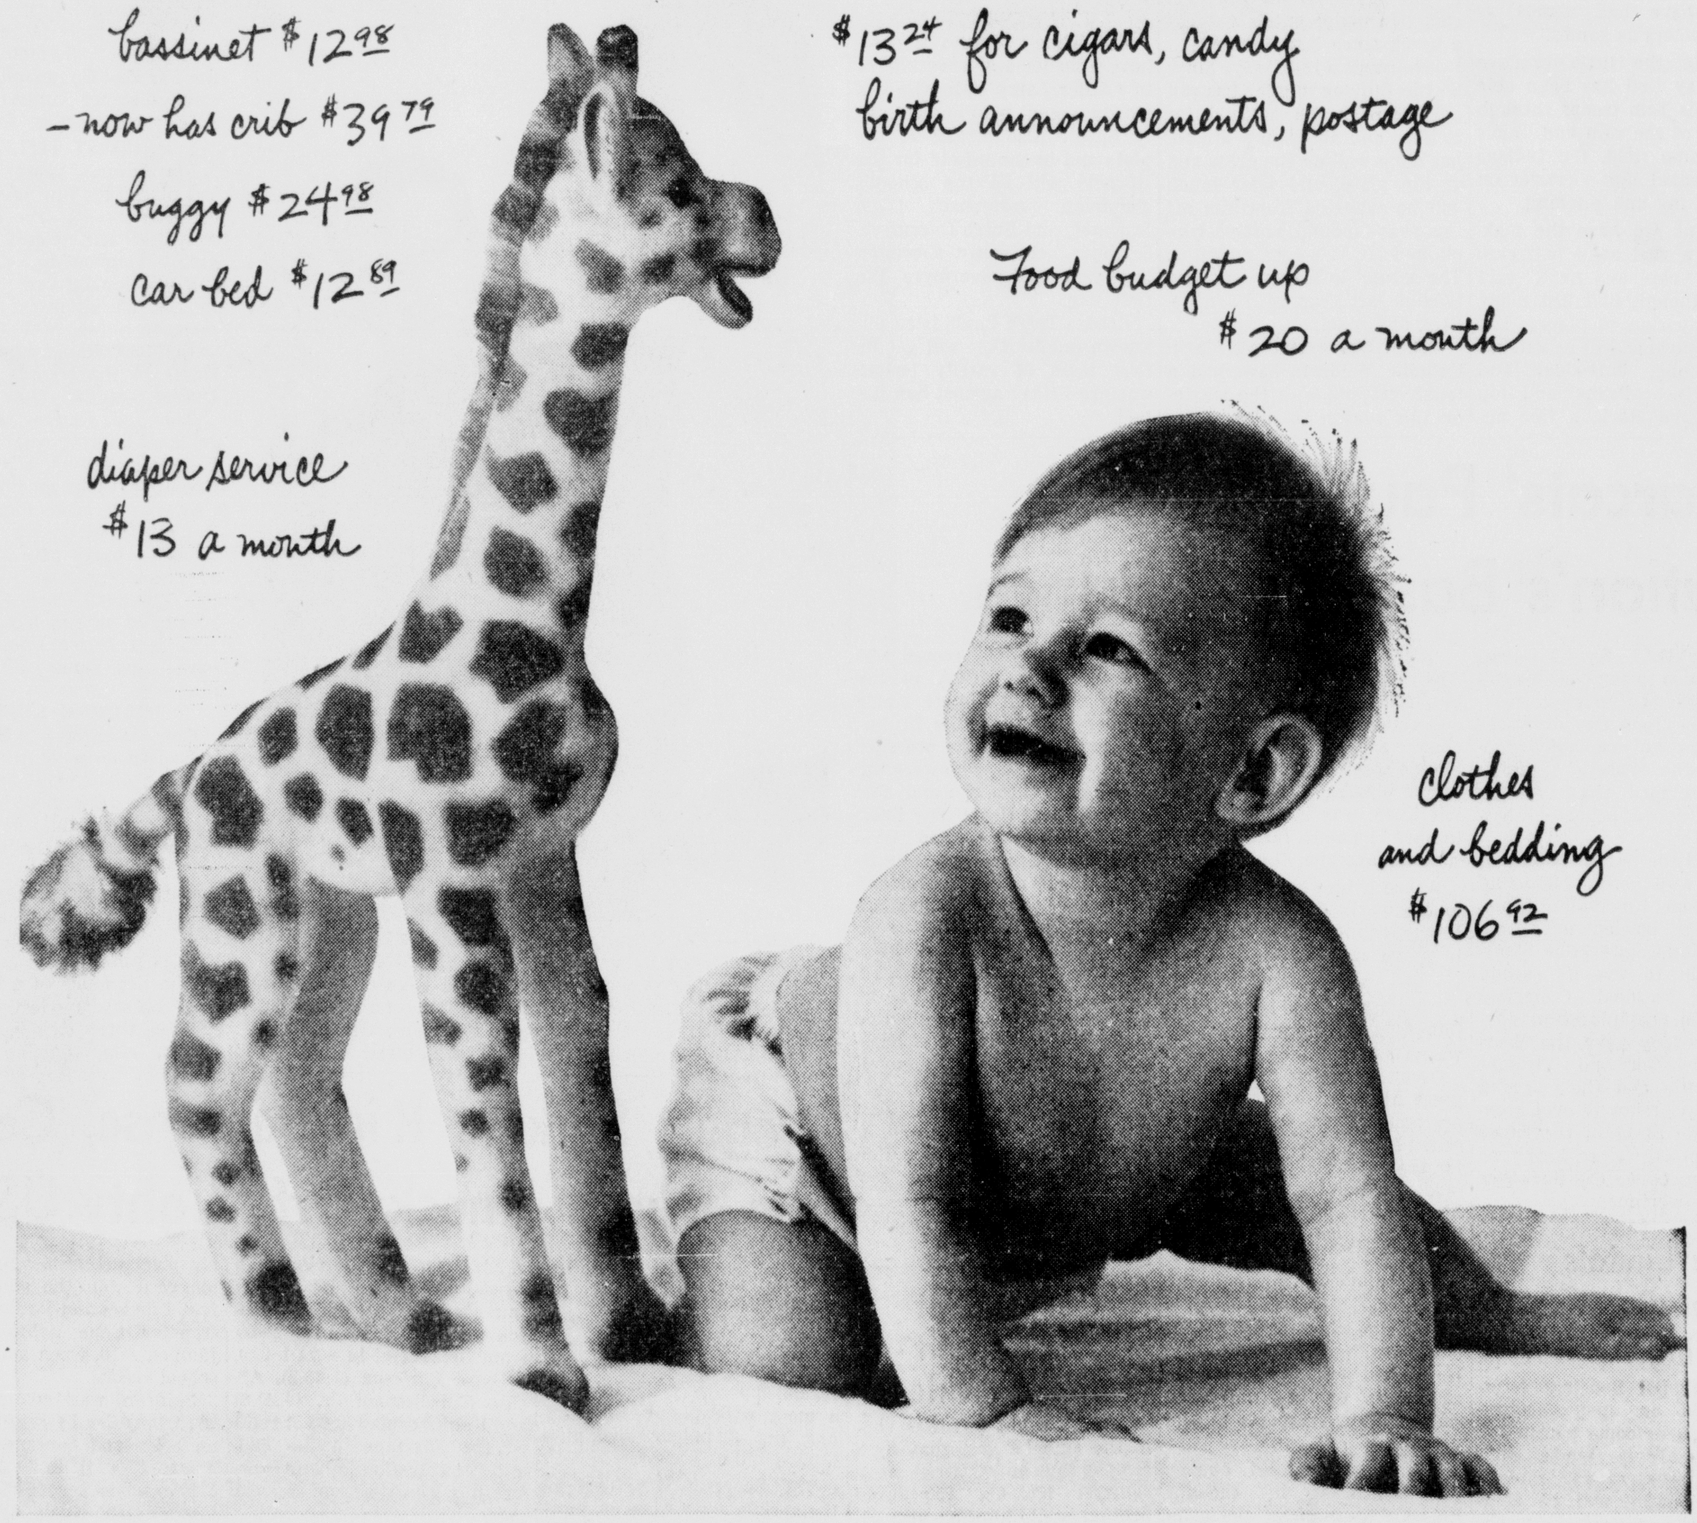

The shed, six-by-18, had been built without obtaining a necessary variance and zoning administrator William G. McBride said the structure was illegal. Bliss filed a belated variance request which was denied.

IT'S WIFE WHO'S THE FAMILY TIGHTWAD, ONE STUDY SHOWS

CHICAGO (AP) — One study shows it's the wife who's the tightwad in most families.

The average man would happily give his wife more money to spend if she would only let him, says a counseling firm.

A pilot study by the Public Relations Board shows it's the little woman who looks upon going to the hairdresser, new hats and sirloin steak for dinner as extravagances.

This is not to say most husbands have acquired the wisdom to understand that mink is no luxury. But if husbands aren't quite that easy-going, the study still indicates they would rather buy something for the wife and children than for themselves.

Not so the ladies. Most are ready to cut out their husbands' beer and cigar money when the budget runs low. Husbands' bowling and spending for home workshops also come under the heading of extravagances in most wives' books.

More evidence that men are more generous: most of the husbands studied wanted more labor-saving household appliances for their wives, but the women saw little need for such husband savers as power lawn mowers.

'Waterfront' Theme Is Set For Luncheon-Show Thursday

"Come Ride The Ferry, It's Back on the Bay" is the theme for "Fashions With a View" Thursday at Ondine's luncheon which honors Mrs. Palmerfield, president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Conservation League, who has sparked the return of the ferries for Belvedere-Tiburon commuters.

For all who would like to come aboard, the Harbor King will leave The Dock in Tiburon at 11:15 a.m., bound for Sausalito. The return trip to Tiburon will be made after the fashion luncheon.

Fashions will come aboard the Harbor King, as well as the models, Mesdames John Jansheski, John Hackney, David Sederquist and Robert Bernheim, the guest-of-honor, Mrs. Field, Mr. Field, Mrs. Thomas Stanton, Dr. Albertine Nash, Mrs. William Kuder and Miss Helen Bridge, active supporters of the Belvedere-Tiburon Conservation League. A special invitation has been extended to Mrs. Norman B. Livermore of the Marin Conservation League to be an honored guest.

Pre-Cana Conference Set April 1

St. Raphael's social hall will be the setting on April 1 from 1:15 to 5:30 o'clock for the Marin Pre-Cana Conference.

These conferences, being held throughout the Archdiocese of San Francisco, are designed to help couples by furnishing sound, inspirational and accurate information about marriage for all interested engaged and newly married couples.

The conference will be conducted informally, with an opportunity for couples to ask questions. Talks will be given by the Rev. John O'Hare, recently appointed to the Hanna Boys' Center in Sonoma County; Dr. Roy A. Pasqualetti, obstetrician, of San Rafael; Dr. Fred T. Adams, general practicioner, of San Rafael, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Kunst of San Anselmo.

This panel will discuss, "The Christian Ideal of Marriage," "The Catholic Doctor Looks at Marriage," and "Life Together in the Home."

Refreshments and a question period will follow the panel's presentation.

Bedspread Corners Are Fitted Neatly To Prevent Tripping

By EUNICE FARMER

Our tailor trix winner this week is Mrs. Florence Remer, Detroit, Mich., who made this sensible suggestion.

"After reading of the terrific number of accidents caused in homes by people who trip and fall because of the two corners of the bed spread which lie on the floor at the foot, (my husband almost became one of these casualties), I proceeded to do something about it.

"To make a regular bed spread fit the foot of the bed, place the spread on the bed upside down. Grasp one bottom corner and lift until the side and the foot overlap hang straight to the floor, then pin securely from the corner of the mattress to the floor. Now move to the other corner and do the same.

"Remove the spread and replace it right side up to be sure of the "boxy" effect. Now stitch the corner and cut off excess. The end result will be greater than you expected. It cuts bed making time in half, and also makes a neat appearance."

"I have some material with a border print which I would like to make up in a flared type smock for my little girls. How can I cut this out so that the border will look right?"

Mrs. W. B. R.

Dear Mrs. W. B. R.:

You will have to find a pattern with a gathered or pleated skirt instead because the hem line will have to be "straight" in order to use a border print. It is impossible to have the border straight with a curved hem line.

"A friend of mine brought me some raw silk from Europe and since I am not familiar with this type of fabric, I hesitate to attempt to make it up. Does it have to be shrunk, and is there any special handling necessary." Mrs. J. E. O'C

Dear Mrs. J. E. O'C.:

Usually silk does not have to be shrunk. Be careful when pressing it however, water usually spots it. If it is pure silk, don't use a steam iron on it because of the danger of water-spotting. Instead, you can press it with a fairly hot iron.

Most of these fabrics need a complete underlining for added body. This is cut exactly the same as the garment itself, and basted to each section separately, in other words, you will have two layers of each section instead of one. Underlining could be of a very light weight silk, such as China silk, or a fine batiste, or regular sheath lining which is a combination cotton and acetate.

"I have just finished a suit with drop shoulders and it looks so big on me. I am wondering if I should use shoulder pads or move the sleeve up?"

Mrs. B. W.

Dear Mrs. B. W.

This is the "new" look and you will get used to it the more often you see it. It does feel odd at first, and shoulder pads don't help the appearance.

You can't just move the sleeves up. If you don't want the drop shoulders, you must re-cut your garment. Use a pattern with a regular set-in-sleeve and cut the armhole from this pattern. Be sure and place the pattern you are using, over the other pattern, matching the center front and the shoulder seams.

Now you can safely cut the armhole only. Now you will also be able to use the sleeve pattern that comes with your new pattern. You will notice the cap of the sleeve is shaped entirely different in a dropped shoulder garment from one with a standard width shoulder.

New Stretch Pants Include 'Cooking' Directions To Fit

DALLAS (UPI) — A woman revolted by the way some persons look in slacks includes cooking directions with her newly designed stretch pants.

Rose Sinkin, a member of the Texas Fashion Creators Assn. said today the pants — at first sag—spring back into shape when "put into a cold oven and baked for seven minutes at 225 degrees."

Mrs. Sinkin, president of a firm that makes only pants for women, also reported that a survey has shown her why many women have trouble finding slacks and shorts that fit.

"We measured women in many states," she said, "and found that their hips aren't larger than they used to be. It's just that their waistlines are shrinking. That's why some look revolting in pants."

As a result, the firm Mrs. Sinkin heads, figured a way to mold pants with a schizophrenic twist. The size 14 in her firm's line has a 12 waist; the 16 has a size 14 waist, and so on.

The pants, cut on the bias, are made of 12 curved sections. "It's a whole new concept to make women look presentable in pants," she said.

SPRAY YOUR CLOTHES NEW

"Spray your clothes new again" is the slogan of a new laundry product, which is designed to restore body, look and feel to limp fabrics. In addition, the new product contains an ironing aid, silicone, which cuts ironing time by reducing "ironing drag," the friction between the sole plate of the iron and the fabric.

Not a starch, the fabric finish can be used on all fabrics, synthetics, silk, wool, and others as well as cottons. It eliminates starching and dampening, says the manufacturer.

Marin Women

Male Driver's Hurry Causes The Accident

HEMET (UPI)—One more observation on the argument over women versus men drivers comes from one of the women in the annual Mobil Economy Run.

"Men drivers are always in a hurry," said Mrs. Patricia Sawyer, mother of three. "They regard everyone else on the road as a rival.

"Maybe that's why they cause seven times more accidents than do women each year."

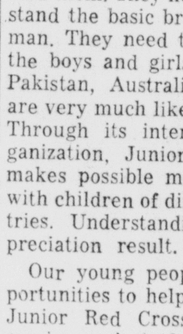

Mrs. Sawyer, 42, will make her third trip as a driver in the run from Los Angeles to Detroit March 31-April 5. Her husband was scheduled to be her co-driver. He was killed in the December, 1960, airplane collision over New York City.

Junior Red Cross Program Can Help Youngsters Help Others

Do your children belong to the Junior Red Cross? I hope so. It's one of the best organizations in the world.

Our boys and girls need to be patriotic Americans. But also they need to know that people are people, anywhere you find them. They need to understand the basic brotherhood of man. They need to know that the boys and girls of Turkey, Pakistan, Australia and Peru are very much like themselves. Through its international organization, Junior Red Cross makes possible many contacts with children of different countries. Understanding and appreciation result.

Our young people need opportunities to help others. The Junior Red Cross has many service projects for them—the Drivers' Corps for the older teen-agers; the hospital aid programs; handiwork activities; Christmas projects; and so on. Generosity and altruism have to be taught. They don't come by accident. Children learn by doing in Junior Red Cross.

Our children need to help other children who are in trouble. A flood—or earthquake, avalanche or fire—strikes a distant land. Soon the Red Cross is at work. Along with it goes Junior Red Cross money to help the disaster-stricken children. Our children share their abundance that way.

There's been a hullabaloo over United Nations Children's activities. Many folks feel they are too close to the Communists. No one has any such reservations about the Junior Red Cross. Everyone can support it wholeheartedly.

Fight 'Progress', Urges Professor

Dr. Daniel B. Luten of the University of California urged Mill Valley's Outdoor Art Club members Thursday to fight much of what is called growth and progress in Marin.

This can best be done, he said, by working for the greatest possible "Diversity of environment."

Dr. Luten's speech on "Marin and the Metropolis—The Prospects and Course of Action" was planned by the civics section under Mrs. Robert E. Wickersham in observance of Conservation Week.

The speaker emphasized that promoting diversity of environment is the best method of preserving desirable surroundings and way of life during the growth process.

He declared that areas should be part rural, part urban with some parts more urban than others—part domesticated, part wild—and planned with both large and small cities with open spaces even in the largest ones.

SCHOOL PRIORITY

"Schools," he said, "should probably have first priority on land reserved for future development."

In the next 60 years, Dr. Luten predicted that at the present rate of growth Marin will be entirely within the metropolis. There will be constantly increasing pressures to devote land to industrial purposes on the "Pretense of getting taxes down—which is idiocy. The real concern is private gain," he said.

The speaker pointed out that growth and progress are not necessairly the same thing if progress is defined as betterment.

He cited a great many statistics illustrating what present rates of population growth would mean. He said that California population is doubling every 18½ years and so provides the best field on earth for study of growth problems.

AT LEAST ONE

Although these problems cannot be solved in one generation he recommended that individuals contribute something by working on at least one project to encourage diversity of environment. "Limited aid of many is better than the fanatical devotion of a few," he inisted.

Questioned as to what he would advise about the proposed Marineland in Mill Valley, Dr. Luten envisioned adverse effects and said he would prefer to see it perhaps on the bay south of Candlestick Park.

As for planning for bay regional development, he said that the association of Bay Area governments is the only group working on the area-wide problem, and it doesn't have the support of San Francisco.

One hopeful situation he mentioned is that some bond issues are now being planned as a means of buying land to be kept open.

Following the program tea was served under the direction of Mrs. F. J. Connelly, assisted by Mesdames E. H. Schaubel, De Witt Clark, Edward Mitchell John Richardson, Maynard Sears, Willis Donnan and Fay Sparks.

Pouring were Mesdames Roy Ewing, William Marcus, Howard Lieben and S. A. Bennetts.

Mrs. Samuel Seifert provided floral decorations.

Raincoat Week

Now, a girl can have a raincoat wardrobe — something to protect her from the showers from sunup to snooze time. A "raincoat week" in Florence, Italy, produced sportswear raincoats from three-quarter to nine-tenths of street length; for afternoon, the rain suit which was either a combination coat and skirt or cape and skirt; and for evening, touches of mink here and there on rainwear. A cut silk velvet raincoat came with fur cuffs and hood.

Youngsters like this are more than newspaperboys. They've become a healthy economic force, both for their own betterment and the good of the community. Imagine: these young fellows, since the start of the Independent-Journal Merchants Point Program, have purchased some $5,-500 worth of goods and services from participating merchants. (Using points, earned as commissions for new subscriptions, redeemable by the I-J at cash value).

Merchants in the plan both gain business and help these younger businessmen gain in the knowledge of buying and saving. (Some boys for instance, are putting savings with Marin firms toward a college education).

In addition, our 600 newspaperboys, earning nearly $200,000 annually, are placing these funds to work in Marin—banking, investing, buying, adding to the economy and to their own advancement. It's all part of the community values which these self-reliant youngsters create by doing a job. In this, we believe, everyone gains.

For Michael Fraize, that's a window to the future. Just 13, he's already investing part of his earnings with Marin County Savings & Loan Association.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Here's Your Chance For Jury Trial On Way Hand Is Played

Haven't you often wished for a jury trial when your partner complains about the way you have played a hand? Here's your chance to sit on a jury and render a true verdict.

Opening lead — ♠ K

South, the defendant in this trial, won the first trick with the ace of spades. He cashed the ace of hearts and led a low heart.

East took two heart tricks and returned a spade, forcing dummy to ruff. Declarer led the queen of clubs from dummy, finessing to West's king. Back came a diamond, and South lost a finesse to East's king. Down one.

North, the plaintiff, set up an awful howl. South did his share of counter-howling, and the case is now before you, ladies and gentlemen of the jury. Was South unlucky or did he play the hand badly?

PROPER VERDICT: South was guilty of bad play. He made his mistake in leading the queen of clubs from dummy at the sixth trick.

The correct play is to lead a low club to the ace and then return a club toward dummy. If West has the king of clubs (as happens to be the case), he must grab the king or lose his club trick.

After West has taken his king of clubs, dummy's remaining clubs will provide discards for three diamonds. Hence South will not need a diamond finesse.

Even if it turns out that East has the king of clubs, South will still be able to discard three diamonds if the clubs break 3-3. East cannot safely lead diamonds, so South can find out about the club break before he decides how to play the diamonds.

In effect, the right play will work if West has the king of clubs. The wrong play works if East has the king clubs. The advantage of the right play is that South will not need the diamond finesse if the clubs break 3-3. This slight advantage should steer South to play the clubs correctly.

DAILY QUESTION: Dealer, at your right, bids one heart. You hold:

♠ K Q 10 8 3
♥ J
♦ 8 4 3
♣ K 10 9 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade. Your hand should win four or five tricks even against rather bad breaks. If your spot cards in spade were 4-3-2 instead of 10-8-3 your hand would not be worth a vulnerable overcall.

Almonte Board Action Explained

Almonte Improvement Club directors did not take a stand either pro or con on the proposed county ordinance to ban racial discrimination in housing, club president Frank R. Little explained today.

At the Wednesday meeting, the directors voted 6 to 4 in favor of putting the proposed ordinance to a public vote. The four dissenters wanted the matter decided by the supervisors instead of being put to a general vote, said Little.

"There was no vote either in favor or against the proposed ordinance," Little pointed out. "The vote was on whether or not the county supervisors should handle it, or whether it should go to a public vote."

Missionaries Need Is Told

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Methodist Board of Missionaries has issued a call for 238 foreign missionaries and an almost unlimited number of persons to work in the home missions field.

Of the 238 foreign openings, 183 are for regular career service and 55 are for special terms of three years. The vacancies exist in 26 countries and cover various occupations, including secretarial, educational, medical and nursing professions.

He's Going To Tanganyika

Draftsman Taking Off In June

Paul L. Brown of San Anselmo, draftsman in the Marin County assessor's office, early in June will become the newest resident of Africa's newest republic, Tanganyika.

Tanganyika, although unfamiliar to the world as an independent country, is well known to most English-speaking peoples. It is where Henry Morton Stanley presumably said to David Livingstone: "Dr. Livingstone, I presume?" It is where one of Ernest Hemingway's most famous short story characters met his untimely end in "The Short, Happy Life of Francis Macomber."

It is where Humphrey Bogart and Katherine Hepburn sailed jungle rivers in the film, "The African Queen." It is also where Tarzan said, "Me Tarzan, you Jane."

To Brown—and countless other American Negroes—it is more than all that.

"It is an opportunity to take a giant step in a new dimension," the soft-spoken mechanical engineer said. "It is where our race is actually in our favor."

Brown has thought about Africa — and Tanganyika — since he was a small boy in Springfield, Ohio. "I first knew of the country when I read the Tarzan stories. Later, Hemingway wrote about it in many of his short stories.

"But the emergence of the new nations in Africa had a profound effect on every Negro.

"We all realize that every time a new population steps forward, it helps us a lot here. I think every Negro has an earnest drive to be a contributing part of the new world."

To the new east African country—which Brown describes as "about the size of Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana combined"—he will take knowledge of mechanical draftmanship, map-making, aviation and the seemingly unrelated craft of toy design.

He has a patent on one toy (a model of Pegasus, the flying horse of mythology) and patent pending on another (a one-way plastic valve for a toy balloon). He learned aviation in the Army Air Corps as a cadet prior to World War II, which he gave up before graduation because of "many problems" facing Negro pilots. Since then he has logged considerable hours as a civilian pilot.

Draftsmanship and map making he learned at Fenn College in Cleveland, Ohio, the Detroit Institute of Technology, Heald College in San Francisco and extension courses through University of California.

A draftsman with the assessor's office for two years, he previously worked for the the State Division of Highways and the Photo Map Survey Co. in Sebastopol.

The unmarried careerist lives at 15 San Rafael Avenue in San Anselmo.

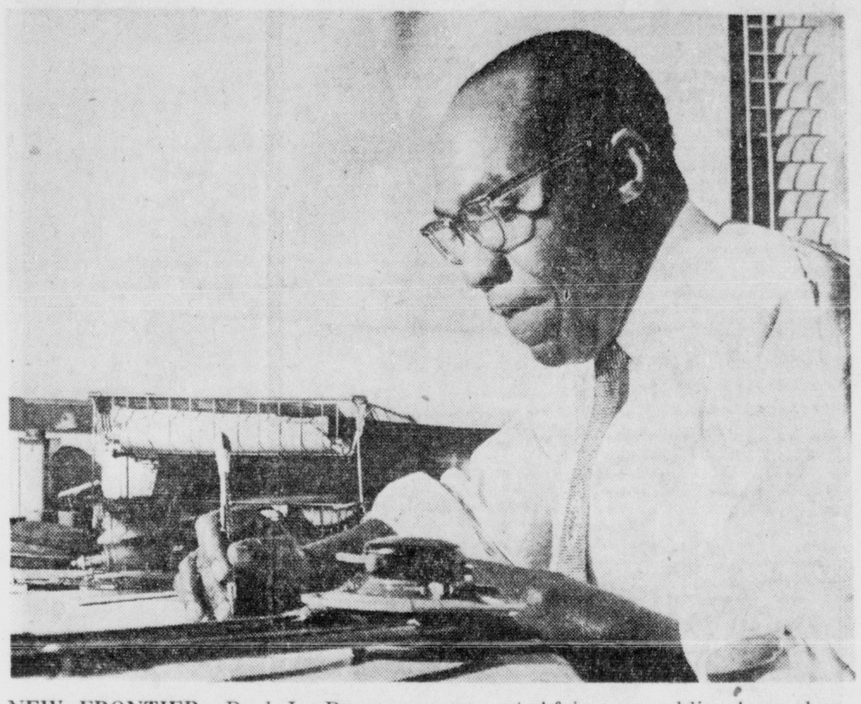

His move to Tanganyika is strictly "free lance"—that is, he has no job awaiting him but feels assured of work because of the need there for technicians of every sort. He has "several people interested" in backing him in a business venture, but details are yet to be worked out.

English is the official language of the country, which was under German domination prior to World War I, next administered by the British as a League of Nations mandated territory, made a United Nations trustee territory in 1946, and given independence in December, 1961.

French, which Brown learned during World War II in France with the Army Engineers, is also spoken. The native tongue is Swahili, which he studies one night each week with Tanganyikan students at University of California.

He also plans to write about the country. Brown has studied short story writing under Nathan Asch weekly in Mill Valley.

His home-to-be, Brown says, is filled with rich soil, minerals —and hope. He readily quotes Nsilo Swai, Tanganyika's minister of commerce and industry, who recently said: "Bring your knowledge, enterprise and skill to Tanganyika. It is the land of opportunity for us; it is also the land of opportunity for you."

NEW FRONTIER—Paul L. Brown, draftsman for the Marin County Assessor, will soon leave his San Anselmo home to live in Tanganyika, newest African republic. A mechanical engineer, part-time pilot and toy designer, Brown plans to "free lance" his talents in the new nation and maybe go into business there.

7 Days A Week, 'Round-The-Clock Loan Service Starting In Marin

A new service—"seven days a week, 24 hours a day"—will be introduced by Royce Finance Plan, 935 Lootens Place, San Rafael, next Thursday.

The firm is hooking up its phone with an answering service on that day for the benefit of prospective borrowers who are unable to call or visit its office during regular hours. Loan applications will be taken by the answering service and processed the next day by a loan officer.

Manager William Kirk says he believes it is the first time such a plan has been offered by a personal loan company in the area—certainly in Marin County, though other types of firms are doing it. He added that Royce will arrange after hour appointments at the office as an additional feature.

Royce loan service now has clients throughout the Bay Area, he said.

SINGER SEWING MACHINE CO., San Rafael, is participating in a national "Sale-A-Thon" starting today and ending with a prize drawing on April 14, according to manager Larry Sharinghausen.

One major prize will be awarded, he said. All it takes to enter is a visit to the Singer Center at 1235 Fourth Street to fill out a blank and state your preference: A Spartan straight stitch sewing machine; a Roll-A-Magic canister vacuum cleaner; a rug cleaner and floor polisher; and a Scholastic typewriter.

Each Singer Center has its own drawing so you're not competing with out-of-county entrants.

SAN ANSELMO resident Louis F. Czufin shared the spotlight with Pulitzer Prize-winning newspaperman Frank Conniff and Associated Press official Don Huth last Saturday when they all appeared as feature speakers during the 11th Annual Newspaper Institute dinner at Diablo Valley College near Concord.

Czufin who is manager of advertising and public relations for California Chemical Co. gave the lead-off adress with a presentation on "What's Wrong with Retail Advertising?"

WILLIAM MCLACHLIN of the Redmond Insurance Agency, San Rafael, was among the directors of the California Assn. of Insurance Agents who recently attended a board meeting at Pacific Palisades. McLachlin is secretary of the Marin County Assn. of Insurance Agents.

ROBERT G. BRUCE of San Rafael has been appointed manager of the brokerage department of the J. Denny Nelson agency of Aetna Life Insurance Co., San Francisco.

He was formerly a director of sales for Hartford Life Insurance Co. and previously manager of the Fresno agency for Travelers Insurance Co.

CONGRATULATIONS to the Arlin P. Mummerts of San Rafael—it was a baby girl for them last week at Marin General Hospital.

Arlin recently took over Herb's Sport Shop in San Anselmo and will change the name to Bill's Sport Shop.

PRESIDENT George Umbreit of the Maytag Co. thinks 1962 will be a good year for the home laundry appliance industry. He said January and February sales ran 12 per cent ahead of last year, and forecast a net gain of more than 7 per cent for the entire year. Heaviest increase will be in combination washer and dryers, with dryer sales next in line, he predicted.

The workshop will be conducted in two daily classes. The afternoon class will be from 1 to 3:30 p.m. The evening class from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Both are held in the youth center, Building 581.

A new class in color photography will begin at Sir Francis Drake High Evening School tomorrow, according to adult school principal Harry Russell.

INCOME TAX FACTS

There Are More Agents Looking At Tax Returns

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

Every individual federal income tax return is due for a more thorough going over this year than it has received in past years. The Internal Revenue Service will employ 3,365 new people. Most of them will be revenue agents.

P. J. Wikel

The Treasury assured Congress that they would produce five dollars in revenue for every one dollar in wages spent.

It behooves us to be very careful that every item of income is included in our tax return and that every item of credit or deduction can be fully substantiated by supporting evidence before we put it on our tax return.

We should be careful to explain on the tax return or on a schedule attached to the tax return fully and completely what we are doing and why we are doing it.

It is much easier to do this now, while we are preparing the return, than to try and remember some two or three years from now what we were thinking about when we made the return.

There is no reason to be timid in claiming every deduction or exemption accorded you under the law.

Judge Learned Hand expressed it so well when he said, "Over and over again courts have said that there is nothing sinister in so arranging one's affairs as to keep taxes as low as possible. Everyone does so, rich or poor; and all do right, for nobody owes any public duty to pay more than the law demands: taxes are enforced exactions, not voluntary contributions. To demand more in the name of morals is mere cant."

It Will Be Family Affair When Scout Becomes Eagle

It will be a family affair Monday night when Joseph A. Lyle, 16, becomes the first eagle scout in the history of Boy Scout Troop 27 at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Two months time is the only thing that keeps it from being a double ceremony for Joseph and his brother William, 15, a life scout who has passed all of the tests for eagle scout except the necessary time.

Their father, Capt. Joseph Lyle Jr., is chairman of the troop committee for Troop 27, which is reportedly the largest troop in five western states. Their mother is a former den mother to the Cub Scouts. To complete the family in scouting, a sister, Penny, was a Girl Scout.

The court of honor at which Joseph will receive his award is scheduled for 7 p.m. at the Scout Hall on the air base.

Awarding of eagle scout rank will probably be the farewell between Troop 27 and the Lyles, as the captain will leave for duty in France April 1.

The family will follow as soon as arrangements can be made.

A.F. Officer Now Lieutenant Colonel

Armin F. Herold Jr., whose wife is the former Ruth S. Switzer of Point Reyes Station, has been promoted by the Air Force to lieutenant colonel.

Col. Herold is assigned to the 4128th Strategic Wing at Amarillo Air Force Base, Tex.

30 New Cases Of TB Reported In County

Thirty new cases of tuberculosis were found in Marin County in 1961, the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. reported today.

This brings the total of known cases in the county to 188, said Mrs. William Hoxie, president.

These new cases were reported: San Rafael, 11; Fairfax, four; Novato, three; Mill Valley, Sausalito and Hamilton Air Force Base, two each; Marin City, Point Reyes Station, Kentfield, Corte Madera, San Anselmo and Forest Knolls, one apiece.

She said the new cases found by private physicians, the county health department and the X-ray screening program.

Free X-ray screening is provided by Marin General Hospital and the TB association to prevent the spread of the communicable disease, Mrs. Hoxie pointed out. A technician is on duty at the hospital Tuesday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to take free minifilm X-rays without appointment.

Roy E. Bergeson, Stanford University student of 238 Merrydale Road, San Rafael, left Saturday for Tours, France, with 80 Stanford students for six months of study.

The students will live in a study center developed by the University of Poitiers and the city of Tours. They will study humanities and social sciences oriented to France as well as receiving intensive language instruction by native teachers.

The university has sent 1,169 students abroad for study since June, 1958.

Dr. Richard H. Albert, San Rafael dentist, has been renamed chairman of a Marin County committee to raise funds toward construction of a new college building for the School of Dentistry, College of Physicians and Surgeons, in San Francisco.

The quota of the Marin alumni of the dental school, which recently merged with University of the Pacific, is one million dollars. There are 38 graduates of the school practicing in Marin County who met last Thursday at Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera to kick off the fund raising drive.
